GO-CARTS.

Too cold? Not a bit. The weather man says Old Sol is getting on his spring clothes and is just about ready to step out for a long trot over the country with some of the brightest sunshiny days up his sleeve you ever dreamed of. NOW GET READY.

Co-A-Hunting.

Got a baby at your house? Don't let it miss a single minute of the sunshine that's coming. 50 of the swellest carts you ever dreamed of came to us this morning, the very cream of the prettiest line in the market this spring—automobiles, hooded English stanhopes, surreys, basket phaetons and collapsibles so small and light you can tuck them away under an electric car seat. There's only fifty in this lot; but that's enough to start 50 babies along towards health and happiness. Will yours be one of them?

Study this over a little, then compare it with what you'll find in other stores.

From the Ground Up.

Great heavy cushion-tire wheels under a spring gear that's as easy as a Brewster buggy; a natty close woven reed body, fancy back and dasher that adjust to any position together or separately; seat, back and sides all upholstered with heavy Bedford cord cushions, and to cap the climax a beautiful white lace covered shade lined with green cloth to protect the little one's eyes from the strong sun's rays. $10.00

FRENCH CONTROL OF THE POLICE.

Regarded by Germany as Contrary to Open Door.

Moorish Delegates Suggest Giving Sultan the Power.

ALGECIRAS, Spain, Feb. 6.—The discussion going on between the German and French delegates to the Moroccan conference begins to disclose their respective positions and how far each side is willing to yield on the main Franco-German controversy. When France indicated a desire to control Morocco's policy Germany declared it would permit France to obtain complete political mastery of the country. France has now sought to meet this objection by suggesting certain guarantees limiting the scope of the police in such a way as to guard against their use as an instrument for France laying hands on the Moroccan empire. There is reason to believe that the foreign capitals have been advised of these guarantees and that some countries, but not all, have responded favorably.

However, Germany doubts the sincerity of any guarantees and continues to resist French control of the police as contrary to the spirit of the open door, the German conception of the open door being that it should be a safeguard against exclusive political as well as commercial advantages. Germany has not flatly refused to agree to French control of the police, as France has avoided making the proposition sufficiently explicit to permit of a formal rejection.

In the meantime the telegraph wires between the capitals are busy, the indications being that the German delegates think the time is near when they should present some definite counter-project against the French project for control of the police. The Moors have taken a hand in trying to find a Franco-German compromise. They have formulated a project, consisting of 10 articles, giving the Sultan control of the police, thus entirely eliminating foreign control. The French treat the project as preposterous, declaring that it would result in Morocco being delivered over to anarchy for all time. The Germans would doubtless accept the Moors' project in order to get France out of Morocco. The French rather suspect that the Germans are behind the Moors' project.

RECEIVED BY THE POPE.

Farewell Audience Given to Rt. Rev. W. H. O'Connell.

ROME, Feb. 6.—The Pope today received in a farewell audience Rt. Rev. W. H. O'Connell, the recently appointed coadjutor to the archbishop of Boston, Mass., and formerly bishop of Portland, Me. The pontiff said that the bishop's report of his mission to Japan, which country he visited last year with the rank of assistant to the pontifical throne, was now being carefully studied and as a result several important measures would be adopted with the view of spreading Catholicism in the far east.

MINERS' DELEGATES EXCITED.

Demand Resignations of Men Who Voted to Accept Old Scale.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 6.—At the second day's session of the district convention of the United Mine Workers of America the resolution demanding the resignations of President Patrick Dolan, Vice President Uriah Bellingham and Secretary-Treasurer Dodds, for voting to accept the old wage scale at the Indianapolis convention, was again introduced. There was a repetition of yesterday's stormy scene, when the same motion was defeated, because it was not properly presented. The resolution was placed before the convention today by the committee on resolutions, and when the main adjournment was taken a vigorous debate was in progress among the excited delegates.

ONLY ONE ESCAPED.

Nine Colored Persons Burned to Death in Fire at Curtis Bay.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 6.—An isolated small frame house near the village of Curtis Bay, in Anne Arundel county, was burned early today. Nine colored persons were burned to death, only one of the inmates escaping alive. The names of those who lost their lives were Richard Taylor, Horace Jackson, his wife Eliza, and their son Samuel, 17 years of age, Mrs. Rose Jackson, a widow, and her four children. When the bodies were recovered nothing but the charred bones of the victims were left. According to the survivor, Ella Webster, the fire was caused by one of the younger children accidentally scattering hot coals on the floor.

PASSENGER JUMPED OVERBOARD

Protested Loudly Against Being Rescued by Quarantine Tug Crew.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—G. A. H. Schmidt, a second cabin passenger on steamer Bluecher, from Hamburg, jumped overboard into New York harbor today, while the vessel was anchored off Quarantine station. Although the temperature was 6 degrees above zero and a sharp wind threw a choppy sea into his face, Schmidt swam away from the steamer, avoiding life buoys which were cast to him and attempting to dodge tug boats which rushed to rescue him.

Schmidt finally was captured by the crew of a Quarantine tug, who reached over the rail and drew him forcibly by the coat collar out of the water. The swimmer protested loudly at such treatment, and apparently suffered no bad effects from his swim. The swimmer was dried out on the tug, after which he went on board the Bluecher and completed his voyage.

Senator Holburn Better.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—At the apartments of Senator Hoyburn today it was stated that his condition was greatly improved.

GIVING THE VETO TO THE GOVERNOR

Old Constitutional Amendment Introduced.

Substitute for the State Highway Loan Reported.

(Special despatch to the News.)

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 6. Senator McKenna revived another of the old measures of previous years, by introducing in the senate today the constitutional amendment giving the veto power to the governor. It was referred to the committee on special legislation.

The finance committee reported the act creating a commissioner for the suppression of the gypsy and brown tail moths. The measure provides a salary of $1,000 and an appropriation of $5,000 for the prosecution of the work. It was placed on the calendar.

Senator Pattle presented the petition of Dr. Garvin and others for a public hearing on the constitutional amendment providing for the initiative and referendum, which was killed in the senate Friday. The petition was referred to the committee on special legislation.

Senator Remington presented the petition of the Rhode Island Woman Suffrage Association for a public hearing on the bill giving women the right to vote for Presidential electors. Referred to the committee on special legislation.

Senator Money introduced a resolution making an appropriation of $10,000 for the completion of the Point Judith breakwater. Referred to the finance committee.

The appointment of Stephen O. Metcalf as a member of the commission to purchase a suitable gift for battleship Rhode Island was confirmed.

In the house the committee on public institutions reported the annual report of State Record Commissioner Pillsy. It was sent to the senate, and in abstract to the finance committee.

The finance committee reported a substitute state appropriation bill, which was placed on the calendar.

Mr. Bowen introduced an act for the confirmation of tax titles. Referred to the judiciary committee.

Mr. Crafts introduced a resolution changing the time of meeting of the senate and house from 11 to 12 o'clock. Referred to the judiciary committee.

Mr. Allen introduced an amendment to the divorce law, providing that all cases shall be filed, tried and heard in Providence, except those brought by residents of Newport, Washington and Kent counties, which shall be attended to in their own counties. The amendment was referred to the judiciary committee.

The finance committee reported a substitute for the state highway construction loan, providing that only $200,000 of the $600,000 of bonds shall be issued this year and only that amount shall be spent during the year. Placed on the calendar.

Both houses adjourned to Wednesday at 11 o'clock.

KILLED IN MEADE DISASTER.

Appropriation to be Asked for Families of Two Firemen.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 6.—Brigadier General Frederick Funston, commander of the Department of California, made known yesterday his intention of writing to the War Department to suggest that Congress be asked to pass a bill appropriating $10,000 each to the families of Captain Charles Dakin and Fireman Thomas Hennessy, both of engine company No. 6, who gave up their lives in the fire on board army transport Meade in the early morning of February 1. The appropriation will be asked on the ground that both men lost their lives in the effort to save the government property from destruction.

Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers Frozen Over.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 6.—Owing to the cold weather all the tributaries of the Allegheny, Monongahela and upper Ohio rivers are frozen, while the Allegheny and Monongahela are covered with ice above the city. Navigation has been abandoned.

REGARDED AS AN INSULT TO HOUSE

Denounces Report on Railroad Combination.

Gillespie Creates Diversion in the Chamber.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—After reaching an agreement to close general debate on the rate bill, tomorrow, the House entered the discussion today with a long program of five and ten-minute speeches ahead. Tomorrow four long speeches are to be made, by Bourke Cockran of New York, who is to lead, by Mr. Williams, the minority leader, Mr. Mann of Illinois and Mr. Hepburn.

A resolution introduced January 27, calling on the Secretary of State for reports of Herbert H. D. Peirce on consulates in the Orient, caused some confusion. Mr. Adams (Penn.) stated that the resolution purported to be introduced by Mr. Van Duzer (Nev.), but that Mr. Van Duzer had not been present in the House since the Christmas holidays, having been allowed leave of absence on account of sickness. Mr. Adams wished the resolution "vacated," and copies of it destroyed.

Mr. Williams, the minority leader, suggested that no action be taken until Mr. Van Duzer shall be present. He had been injured in a railroad wreck and was now in Hazleton, Pa.

As Mr. Adams seemed insistent, Mr. Williams threatened roll-calls and demands for quorums, whereupon agreement was reached to let the matter go over until some later date.

Representative Burnett (Ala.), Lewis (Ga.), Gudger (N. C.), Dickson (Ill.) made short speeches in favor of the rate bill.

Diversion was caused at this point by decidedly animated remarks regarding railway mergers by Mr. Gillespie (Texas), author of the resolution answered by President Roosevelt yesterday, concerning an alleged merger of railways with the Pennsylvania system as the important factor.

Mr. Gillespie declared that that answer was an insult; that with the great machinery at hand a complete investigation of actual conditions should have been made. He said such an investigation would show that the railroads carrying bituminous coal to the Atlantic ports are the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, and the Reading. He recited the facts developed concerning the relations of four of those roads which were named in his first resolution in regard to their having the same stockholders and directors.

He asserted that an investigation would show that there had been an allotment to each coal-carrying road of a certain territory to prevent competition in markets by means of rate adjustments, agreements and combinations. Also that the Pennsylvania and New York Central, by means of their stock ownership arrangements, have prevented coal from the territory of the Norfolk & Western and Chesapeake & Ohio being offered anywhere above the Virginia Capes; also that the Pennsylvania company has the power to curtail shipments from territory served by the Baltimorel & Ohio, and Chesapeake & Ohio and Norfolk & Western. Also that the Baltimore & Ohio declines to allot a fair proportion of cars to independent shippers or to allow independent companies to open up new mines and become shippers over the line of the Baltimore & Ohio. Also that an investigation would show that the Pennsylvania railroad

This Morning's News.

COLONEL MANN ARRAIGNED.

He Will Fight Every Inch of Ground in Perjury Charge.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6—That Colonel William D. Mann is going to fight every inch of ground in the perjury charge which Robert J. Collier has brought against him growing out of the Hapgood trial was evidenced today in the proceedings at the first hearing of the case before Justice McAvoy of the court of special sessions. Not only did Martin W. Littleton, Colonel Mann's new counsel, refuse to concede that Hapgood had ever been on trial until it was proved by the proper witnesses, but the only witness called, William I. Daniels, secretary of the company publishing "Town Topics," who had been served with a subpoena duces tecum, appeared without any papers that he had been called upon to produce. He said that these papers were now in the custody of Colonel Mann, the defendant. Mr. Littleton made the point that calling upon a defendant, directly or indirectly through employes, to produce such papers was equivalent to making him testify against himself, which was illegal.

The papers which the district attorney is after are the subscription lists of the paper. They are needed in the effort to show that the name of Count Reginald Ward appears on the "free list" as the result of Colonel Mann's alleged "O. K." on the letter sent by Count Ward to Wooster asking that his name be put on such a list. This letter followed the turning over of stock in Count Ward's company to Colonel Mann after Town Topics had had an unfriendly paragraph in regard to Count Ward's doings in London. Colonel Mann swore at the Hapgood trial that he had not written the "O. K. W. D. M." that appears on this letter, whereas Wooster has sworn that he wrote it in his presence, and Charles Stokes Wayne has declared that the handwriting is that of Colonel Mann.

As a result of Daniels's failure to produce the papers called for and his answers to the questions put to him, Assistant District Attorney Hart asked that he be adjudged in contempt of court.

Mr. Littleton defended him, but Justice McAvoy said that he would reserve his decision and announce it probably at the resumption of the hearing in the afternoon.

TO INCLUDE ALL DISTRICTS.

Any Agreement for Scale of Wages for United Mine Workers.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 5.—The executive board of the United Mine Workers adjourned today without issuing a formal statement regarding the position of the organization in the present crisis and will not meet again until after the New York conference with the anthracite operators. It was agreed at the meeting that the strike assessment shall be $1 per week per member and that the resolution adopted at the recent convention which prohibits any district from making an agreement for a scale unless all districts are included is binding on the organization and that scale agreements cannot therefore be made with individual operators.

The resolution was asserted on motion of President Mitchell to include "every district under the jurisdiction of the United Mine Workers, whether of anthracite, bituminous or block coal regions, in the United States and Canada," and it was said the resolution was designed at the time to prevent any agreement unless it included the demands of the miners in all sections of the country. It is declared that no matter what may be the disposition of the anthracite operators at the New York conference nothing more than a tentative agreement could be entered into, because the convention has declared against it.

It is believed that this resolution was offered and adopted with a view to preventing any agreement which did not stipulate increased wages and shorter hours for all coal miners in the jurisdiction of the United Mine Workers, and that had the bituminous operators agreed to a scale the miners would not have signed it till the same concessions had been made by the anthracite operators.

This effect of the resolution is said to have been explained to President Mitchell and the futility of a conference with the anthracite operators pointed out, but he replied that the conference had been arranged and would be held.

National Board Member E. S. McCullough of Michigan, said, after the board adjourned, that it must not be regarded as official, but it is his belief that the miners will suspend work before there will be an acceptance of any proposition which does not carry with it an increase in wages. Mr. McCullough said that every possible effort will be exhausted to secure an adjustment before strike action is taken. The board adjourned to meet again at the call of President Mitchell.

A meeting of the officers and executive board of the three anthracite coal districts, to be held in Wilkesbarre Friday, will prepare a proposition to be submitted to the anthracite operators and representatives of the railroads at a meeting to be held in New York February 15.

MAY KILL AMERICAN BOYCOTT.

Revision of Chinese Laws Approved by Secretary Metcalf.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Secretary Metcalf of the Department of Commerce and Labor today took most important action, which is expected to ameliorate considerably the friction between this country and China and perhaps cause the abandonment of the anti-American boycott, when he approved the report of the special committee composed of Assistant Secretary Murray, Solicitor Sims and Richard Campbell of the bureau of immigration, providing for a radical revision of the existing regulations under which Chinese may enter and reside in the United States.

Among the alterations proposed are several that promise to avoid delay in landing Chinese who apply for admission. The committee recommends that Chinese of any class, before their departure from the United States, be carefully advised of the conditions upon which they will be readmitted. Provision is also made for notification, in their own language, of Chinese who are denied admission at ports of entry of their right to appeal to the Secretary and for the further precaution of certifying the Chinese consul at such port.

A VALENTINE DINNER.

Appropriate Menu and Decorations for Celebrating the Anniversary of the Young Peoples' Cherished Saint.

[Cornelia C. Bedford.]

Though it may not be a legal holiday there is no day more universally beloved by young people than that of their cherished saint, the good Valentine. Hence it is that we may fitly honor his anniversary by pretty festivities—dancing and gaiety for the feet that lightly trip through the spelling measures, equally dainty feasting for those who, perchance, have grown a shade more staid. In planning a menu for a Valentine dinner it should be made to accord with the general color scheme. This may either be rose, emblematic of hope and happiness or scarlet, the color of the heart and of love's passion. For a pink dinner the following menu would be very appropriate:

Oysters on the Shell. Cocktail Sauce.
Cream of Love Apple Soup.
Twin Solos. Earth Apples.
Tenderloin of Beef.
Rice Croquettes. Cauliflower.
Shrimp with Celery Salad.
Cheese Wafers.
Angel Parfait.
Kisses. Bonbons.
Coffee.

In planning the decorations it is always possible to rent from a caterer a table top in the shape of a heart, these tops are furnished with clamps which fasten them firmly to the ordinary table, but the difficulty in smoothly adjusting silence cloth and doyleck to an irregular shape will determine the average hostess to confine her efforts to centrepiece, cards and favors. There are few homes which will not yield treasures in the shape of vine or bisque cupids, horseshoes, bows and arrows and butterflies may also be used with effect. Roses or carnations are the most appropriate flowers, while favors may be in the shape of heart-shaped pins, baskets, key-rings bonbon boxes, etc.

The initial course of the dinner itself is made distinctive by the service which accompanies the oysters. For this begin four days before hand by hard boiling as many eggs as there are places at the table. When done shell and drop them into vinegar which has been used for pickling beets, and is well colored. They should be entirely covered by the liquid. A couple of hours before the dinner dick them, wipe dry, then cut off about one third of the end and with a small spoon carefully remove the yolks. Chop very finely the yolks thus secured, to be used in a later salad. Stuff the upper edge of the pretty pink cup in points and just before serving stand one in the centre of each plate of oysters and fill with a spoonful of the following mixture: Two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice or the juice of fresh limes, one teaspoonful of cider vinegar, one tablespoonful of freshly grated horse radish, three tablespoonfuls of tomato catsup, one teaspoonful of worcestershire, two thirds of a teaspoonful of salt, 20 drops of tabasco. This amount is sufficient for six persons.

Love apple is a name applied nearly years ago to tomatoes, so that the second course is a tomato cream or bisque. To serve six (we give proportions for this number throughout) put one quart of milk in a double boiler and cover to heat. Cream together one heaping tablespoonful of butter and two and a quarter tablespoonfuls of flour. When beginning to steam drop the mixture in a lump into the milk and stir gently. When as thickened rich cream season well with salt and pepper; cook for five minutes, then cover and draw aside where it will keep very hot. In the meantime boil down one cupful and a half of strained tomato until reduced fully a third. A moment before serving stir in a quarter of a teaspoonful of baking soda, then take both kettles from the fire and slowly pour the tomato into the thickened milk, stirring well and serve at once. With this may be served little heart-shaped croutons of stale bread, either browned in the oven or fried in deep fat.

Flounders are needed for the third course. Select small ones and have the fishmonger fillet them, each will yield four boneless strips. Wash and wipe these strips. Chop and pound a dozen oysters to a paste; add a half teaspoonful of anchovy essence, salt, paprika, a few drops of lemon juice, a drop of onion juice and one teaspoonful of cracker dust. Spread one fillet with a thin layer of this and cover with a second. Repeat until all pairs are ready. Arrange carefully several inches apart on a greased shallow pan, pour over two thirds of a cupful of sherry and add a tablespoonful of butter cut in bits. Bake for ten minutes in a hot oven, basting three times with the mixture in the pan. When dished sprinkle a little finely chopped parsley over each. With this serve potatoes (with apples) which have been peeled, cut in spirals with a French knife called a quirler, scalded for a moment then dropped in ice water for ten minutes and finally dried and fried in deep fat. When such a knife is not at hand, fluted slices may be used; the spirals however, are newer and more ornamental.

In trimming the tenderloin be sure to carefully remove the thin but tough wide muscle which runs along one side. This tenderloin is fillet, as it is also called, weighs from three to five pounds but is not very thick through. Hence will cook quickly. It should always be served rare and from 25 to 30 minutes in a very hot oven is sufficient time for roasting.

The croquettes need to be begun early in the day. Work a half cupful of rice, place in a double boiler with three quarters of a cupful of clear beef or chicken stock, cover and cook, stir occasionally until the stock is absorbed, then add one pat of thin butter, taste, season and continue the cooking until this liquid is taken up. Lift off, add one egg slightly beaten, one half of a tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of grated cheese and salt and pepper to taste. Spread on a platter and set away until cold. Mold in cylinder croquettes, dip in beaten egg, roll in fine crumbs and fry in deep, smoking hot fat.

Two medium sized heads of cauliflower will be needed. Trim off the leaves and soak in salt water to dislodge insects. Place stalk downward in a kettle of boiling salted water and boil until the stalk is tender—this will boil until the stalk is tender—this will take about 25 minutes. Drain, arrange on a vegetable dish and mask the top with a cream sauce, pouring the remainder around them.

From a head of celery take the white and best stalks. Wash them, let stand in cold water until crisp, then cut in half inch pieces. There should be a full pint. Thoroughly rinse and separate a can of sardines, then cut each in four pieces. Mix with celery, moisten with mayonnaise. Make cups of blanched lettuce leaves, fill with the salad, mask with mayonnaise and powder the top of each with paprika.

The dessert is as delicate as its name would imply. With one quart of cream, skimming off as much of the froth as possible and laying it on a sieve to drain. When no more froth will rise beat the whites of three eggs to a stiff froth, gradually adding one half of a cupful of powdered sugar and whipping until firm and glossy. Now beat in one scant teaspoonful of vanilla and one teaspoonful of extract of rose, lightly mix in the cream with rose leaves. Turn into mould with a tightly fitting cover, bind with a strip of muslin dipped in melted lard and bury in ice and salt for four hours.

The coffee should be clear and strong. Use a drip pot and allow one tablespoonful of powdered coffee and one half of a cupful of boiling water for each person. This gives a drink of double strength, which can be diluted by the addition of a little boiling water if desired.

A STUDY OF CHARACTER.

"The Wheel of Life" a Powerful Novel of New York Society, by Ellen Glasgow.

Bound to the wheel—of life! That was Gerty Bridewell's experience. She had stifled her soul; she was a slave to her body. Not for her own pleasure had she done this, but for the sake of her husband. To retain her hold upon her husband she depended upon her beauty, and all her thought was concentrated on mere physical efforts—to lose her color, to find a wrinkle, or to grow thin or fat—than that there could be no worse fate. As for her husband Perry, he was not worth all this anxious care, as she confessed herself. She made her appeal to his senses, for he had no higher nature, in her opinion. Beautiful, brilliant and flippant, Gerty Bridewell was living her soul life crushed out of her by her desperate efforts to keep alive a passion which was worthless.

If one thing is impressed upon the reader in this book more than any other it is that happiness does not consist in the things which man possesses. It is only when self has been denied, when the joy of renunciation has been tasted, when the soul is in harmony with God, that a man knows what happiness is. Roger Adams was considered the happiest man of his acquaintance; yet he was not rich, his wife was a victim of the cocaine habit, madly disgracing him, and he was hopelessly in debt. What more could mortal need to be on the brink of despair; but it was not so with Adams. He accepted his burden, and in resignation he found peace, and peace is happiness. "The power of self-restraint, the grace of denial, the strength which could do without though it could not take the thing it wanted, the quietness of sacrifice, the sweetened humor that is learned only in sorrow"—these were the qualities that made Roger Adams the man he was.

Of a very different type was Arnold Kemper, whose whole life had been given to the pursuit of pleasure. He had become satisfied with it, for everything he had wanted had come to him; he had no desires unfulfilled. "He had lived for the world and the world had repaid him as she repays all her lovers, with the fruit which is rarely bitter before the fortieth year." It was strange that a man of this character could have attracted such a woman as Laura White. A poet and a dreamer, with an ethereal sort of beauty, she was in the world and yet not of it. She was the exact opposite of Gerty Bridewell, and yet they loved each other deeply. Laura was the embodiment of all that was pure and true to Gerty, who lavished upon her friend not only her affection but almost a spirit of worship as for a superior being.

Laura became infatuated with Kemper in spite of herself. It was the attraction of opposites. Kemper had many generous traits, but his life was of the surface variety; he had no depth and his virtues were those of a magnificent animal. Laura idealized her lover, attributing to him qualities he did not possess. When the awakening came her intellect and affection waged a fierce battle—she knew he was unworthy, and still she thought she loved him. In the end she found she had never loved him, only the man that she had thought him to be. Out of her suffering she emerged a stronger woman. "She understood that both her illusion and her disenchantment were necessary to the building of the structure within her soul."

Ellen Glasgow has written a powerful novel in "The Wheel of Life." Unlike her other books, the scenes of which are laid in the South, this is a tale of New York society life, under the rules of impulse, illusion, disenchantment and reconciliation." It is a study of character. With keen analysis the author lays bare the motives, desires and inner life of the men and women she has created. The book makes a strong appeal to the reader, with as high moral tone, its lovable characters, such as Laura, Gerty and Adams; and the lesson it teaches is the greatest that can be learned in the world. "The Wheel of Life" is the most mature work that Miss Glasgow has done, and will receive a warm welcome from those who enjoy a good story, appreciate a fine literary style, and know by experience the truth of which she writes.

NEW TORPEDO FIRING APPARATUS.

Secretary Bonaparte has approved the plan for equipping the navy with modern torpedo appliances. This is a work which has been practically ignored for some time and, in fact, nothing has been done in the last five years toward acquiring reserve torpedoes and appliances. By installing such a type of armament on board the torpedo boats or the larger vessels, it is now considered that the experimental work has gone far enough and that something of a practical sort on the way of installation should be collected without delay. It was felt that at least $100,000 could be expended at once in this direction, but the policy of economy has required that the disbursement in this direction be limited to one-half that sum. Steps will be taken at once to have certain battleships equipped with new torpedo firing apparatus, and to replace obsolete types on board some 30 torpedo boats and torpedo boat destroyers with a modern equipment. The department has adopted a new pattern of torpedo, which is being made at the Bliss Works at South Brooklyn, where the preliminary experiments have been eminently satisfactory. It is this type that will be installed on the naval vessels.

REPORTS OF CITY OFFICIALS.

Work of the Park Commission During the Year 1905.

Expenditures of the Overseers of the Poor and Receipts of the Tax Collector.

The annual reports to the City Council of the Park Commission, the overseers of the poor and the tax collector are as follows:

Park Commission.

The Park Commission presents the following report for the year 1905:

All the parks, cemeteries and the public bath house, which are under the control of this commission, have been kept in good order.

Band concerts, both evening and Sunday afternoon, were given in Battery, Touro and Morton parks and the Mall.

The placing of the gas pipe fence around the south and west sides of Morton park, which was started last year, has this year been completed.

The sea wall at King park has been repaired; this wall in the near future will require extensive repairs.

New benches have been purchased and placed in the several parks.

This commission was pleased to accept from Mrs. Natalie Bayard Brown 20 maple trees, which will be planted in the early spring; also one oak tree from Mr. DeLancey King, which has been planted in King park; also some lots of rose rugosa from Mrs. Hugh T. Auchincloss, which will be set out in King park in the spring.

This commission has purchased 113 maple trees, which with those presented by Mrs. Brown will be planted in the spring along Wellington avenue by King park.

A statement of the receipts and expenditures for the year 1905 is appended.

Respectfully submitted,
William Shepley, Chairman.

[George Klingle.]

[In Loving Memory of E. K. S. Feb 6, 1892; W. A. S. Nov. 5, 1905.]

We are quite sure
That He will give them back—bright, pure and beautiful—
We know He will but keep
Our own and His until we fall asleep.
We know He does not mean
To break the strands reaching between
The Here and There.
He does not mean—though Heaven be fair—
To change the spirits entering there, that they forget
The eyes upraised and wet,
The lips too still for prayer,
The mute despair.
He will not take
The spirits which He gave, and make
The glorified so new
That they are lost to me and you.
I do believe
They will receive
Us—you and me—and be so glad
To meet us that when most I would grow sad
I just begin to think about that gladness,
And the day
When they shall tell us all about the way
That they have learned to go—
Heaven's pathways show.
My lost, my own, and I
Shall have so much to see together, by-and-by.
I do believe that just the same sweet face,
But glorified, is waiting in the place
Where we shall meet, if only I
Am counted worthy in that by-and-by.
I do believe that God will give a sweet surprise
To tear-stilled, saddened eyes.
And that His Heaven will be
Most glad, most filled through with joy for you and me,
As we have suffered most. God never made
Spirit for spirit, answering shade for shade,
And placed them side by side—
So wrought in one, though separate, mystified—
And meant to break
The quivering threads between. When we shall wake,
I am quite sure, we will be very glad
That for a little while we were so sad.

COLUMBIA RENEWS HER CLAIM.

Demands Pay from United States for Separation of Panama.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Columbia has again renewed her demand for a recompense from the United States because of the separation of Panama. This last application is said to be in general terms similar to the presentment originally made by General Reyes, the present executive head of Colombia, when he was in Washington last year as special commissioner and minister from Colombia.

While this last presentment is in the nature of a claim against the United States government, the amount of damage sustained by the parent state on account of Panama's secession is not set down.

Secretary Root has the last note under consideration, but it is believed that nothing has occurred to change the position originally taken by the State Department in this matter; namely, that the United States was in no way responsible for the separation of Panama.

TIVERTON.

At the monthly meeting of the town council Peleg Wilcox was appointed keeper of the Town Farm Asylum at a salary of $500 a year, one of his family to work in the house.

George A. Brown, Henry Durfee and Leroy M. White were appointed to inventory and appraise the personal property of the town at the town asylum.

Permission was granted to the Tiverton Gas Company to erect and maintain at its own expense, 12 street lights, to be placed under the direction of Henry C. Wilcox and John Carpenter.

A note for $10,000, dated February 3, 1905, payable at the Massasoit-Pocasset National bank, Fall River, four months from date, was approved.

The Central Baptist church voted, Sunday, to extend a call to Rev. Herbert E. Hutchman of Troy, N. Y., to succeed Rev. Thomas S. Sayer, who resigned some time ago. Mr. Hutchman has preached at the church a number of times recently and has created a favorable impression.

NO WINTER.

While this year without a winter has been pleasing to many who have no great love for cold weather and have enjoyed the mildness which has thus far characterized the usual winter season, and while the freedom from severe cold has been of unquestionable benefit to the poor, saving them from much suffering and hardship, it has had its disadvantages in some material aspects which are quite important. Out in the far West fear is expressed for the wheat crop, which it is said needs a covering of snow for its best maturity, and in the lumber districts of northern New England and New York it is reported that the business is threatened, as the lack of snow is making the hauling of logs difficult or impossible.

Some people have an idea that mild weather in winter is unhealthful and that sickness is caused by the unnatural conditions, but many physicians notify in asserting that such is not the case at the present time, and that on the contrary there is not as much illness as usual at this season of the year. The reason probably is that, while the weather has been mild, it has not been damp, but dry and fine. While the temperature has been high, the air has been clear and not of the sort to breed disease, and the absence of severe cold has tended to reduce the danger of such dire as pneumonia and grip in this respect, therefore, the mild weather of the present winter has been a decided boon to all classes of people, reducing the amount and the severity of sickness to a minimum.

There is a difference of opinion, too, as to the effect of such a winter as this has been up to the present time upon the poor, it being claimed on the one hand that, while the lack of cold and stormy conditions has kept these people from suffering and hardship, they have also been unable to secure the employment which they usually find in certain lines, such as snow shovelling and ice cutting in this vicinity, and lumbering in other sections. But it still remains to be proved that these people even without these kinds of employment have been kept idle, for on the other hand outdoor work has been possible throughout the winter almost without interruption and building has progressed to a most uncommon degree, so that work could be found in unusual lines for the winter season.

There is yet time for those conditions which are needed for the improvement of the wheat crop in the West, the formation of an ice crop in the East and the harvesting of the lumber in the north. There remain a few weeks during which there may be cold and snow enough for the consummation of all these results and for the employment of all the men who may be out of work in lumbering, ice harvesting and snow shovelling. If such conditions should not come, the winter will prove a doubly fortunate one, for it will have provided mild weather to prevent suffering among the poor, clear weather to ward off sickness, and finally enough work at outdoor employments to keep all who wish to work, first at building operations and later in the usual winter occupations.

CHLOROFORM FOR THE CHLOROFORMERS.

If the women who prescribe chloroform for every seriously sick or injured person, everybody with a killing toothache, and every one in deep sorrow, would take chloroform themselves they would do something to clear the atmosphere of unwholesome exhalations. Miss L. Graham Crozier, who is described as a New York sociological pioneer, is a worthy follower of Miss Anna Hall. By the way, Miss Hall's home is in Cincinnati, and it was in that city that Miss Crozier prescribed chloroform for 60,000 or 70,000 New York children. What is the matter with Cincinnati, any way?

Miss Crozier remarked, "If something is not done to relieve the suffering of the poor, I crave the permission of New York to allow me to mercifully administer chloroform to the 60,000 or 70,000 children who are so hopelessly handicapped by the misfortune of their birth." It would be stupidity to discuss this sort of thing, even admitting that Miss Crozier was merely using a rhetorical expression and would not emulate King Herod if she had a chance. But her talk is the natural result of the things which Miss Hall and Professor Charles Eliot Norton have been saying, and which seem to many people to be inspired by tender sentiments. Let such people take warning; if they entertain the ideas of Miss Hall and Professor Norton they will easily descend to the level of Miss Crozier.

The poor do not wish their children exterminated and the children do not wish to be killed, and vast numbers of useful and many beautiful and some great lives are developed out of poverty. When every individual is surrounded by material comforts from the cradle to the grave, and the grave is promptly sought as a refuge from pain and disappointment, and all struggle is eliminated from life, the race will have ceased to pull itself upward from its early history in close associations with the wolf and the tiger, the monkey and the fox.

CAMERA FIENDS.

Miss Alice Roosevelt during her visit to New York had a disagreeable experience with the amateur photographers, or "camera fiends," as they seem to deserve to be called. It is not strange that these ardent enthusiasts should desire to "snap" the President's daughter just now, when she is especially in the public eye because of her engagement and approaching marriage, and no one blames them for such a feeling. But what Miss Roosevelt objected to and what deserves the condemnation of all respectable people is the manner in which these "fiends" pursued the young woman wherever she went and the coolness and almost insolence with which they persisted in plying their art even in spite of the requests which she made that they cease to subject her to such annoyance.

Newport has had not a few illustrations of this disposition on the part of amateur photographers to "take" the subjects they desire without regard to protests and almost without respect for decency. In the summer season this city is often overrun with camera enthusiasts, and sometimes they show little or no regard for the feelings of those whose pictures they desire to secure and carry out their schemes by trespassing far beyond the borders of politeness. There may be no redress under such conditions for the unwilling victim, but it is time some public sentiment was created which would deter those who have any regard for the opinions of others from transgressing the ordinary laws of courtesy and making of themselves public and private nuisances.

AN ARMY RESERVE.

Secretary Taft's project for an army reserve can appeal for precedents to every nation except our own. However valuable the National Guard may be, it is impossible to use it in its organized form when war occurs. In every regiment there are many men who do not wish to go to war (and we shall never use compulsion till it is absolutely necessary), and many men with wives and families who ought not to go to the front except as a last resort, and some men who are too old for active service in the field. Therefore it is only individual members of the National Guard who can be used and they want to form volunteer regiments, while one man who will step into a regular regiment organized and made for service is worth two or three men, the matter now well drilled, who will form a new regiment in course of time.

Is there to be another big coal strike? The indications seem to point that way. The operators have been preparing for a strike, while hoping that one could be avoided, and now it is said that they have stored millions of tons of coal in the numerous coal pockets in eastern Pennsylvania, for an emergency. This, they say, will be dealt out so that the strike can be carried on for a year, if necessary. It is said that it is the intention of the operators in the East to maintain prices equitably during the strike period, in order to keep the public satisfied, as it is the intention to break up the miners' union rather than make money out of the fight.

Gifts aggregating $318,503 to Columbia College were announced yesterday. One is of $150,000, from Mrs. Marya H. Williamson of New York, to support a professorship of an endowed lectureship on the origin and growth of civilization, and another is of $100,000, from George Blumenthal, a New York banker, to endow a chair of politics, to provide instruction in problems of government and citizenship, "which," the donor says, "shall most fully prepare students for their duties as American citizens and to participate in the work of government, should opportunity to that end come to them."

Senator Patterson's resolution against party caucus action on the Dominican treaty has created an unusual stir in the Senate. Mr. Patterson is a Democrat, but the Republicans will support his resolution, while his party associates will oppose it. Under these circumstances the result of the vote is not much in doubt, but it will be interesting to see what effect it will have on the vote on the treaty.

The anti-cigarette legislation goes on. The Maryland senate has passed a bill imposing a penalty of $25 for the first offence and $100 for the second on any person who sells, barters, gives away or in any manner disposes of any cigarettes in the state. The house of delegates has yet to pass upon the bill.

Japan expects soon to become one of the greatest naval powers of the world, having decided to increase the tonnage of her navy to 400,000 by the end of the fiscal year 1907-8. Even at this figure, however, Japan will be behind Great Britain, the United States, France, Germany and Italy.

GREAT WORK BY WOMEN.

The first work undertaken by the Civic Improvement committee of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs was to establish civic improvement committees in every club and to place civic improvement topics upon every program. Of the 310 federated clubs in Ohio, more than 150 have now their committees and topics. Each club has been urged to become a member of the American Civic Association. It is not federated clubs alone that are appointing these committees. In Ripley, a town of 2,500 inhabitants, on the Ohio river, nearly all the church societies have followed the example of the club. The results are clean streets, drinking fountains, trash receptacles, schoolhouses repainted and yards cleaned up, and pictures in the schools. In Troy, another small town, there is not a shanty left—all have been replaced by neat cottages.

Cincinnati, through the civic improvement department of her Woman's Club, started the first playground in Ohio. Last year the club did good work against expectation in the streets and cars, and this year its members are devoting their whole energy to the suppression of the smoke nuisance. In publishing the Toledo Club Woman, Toledo has given an impetus to the work all over the state. Admirable work in establishing school gardens has also been done in that city. Cleveland clubs have taken a most active interest in home gardening, school gardens and playgrounds. Now they are especially devoting themselves to attacking pernicious advertising and much good has been accomplished in the way of abolition of the smoke nuisance. Smoke consumers are now in successful operation in 200 boilers of the American Steel and Wire Company.

The Woman's Club of Columbus has accomplished much, first by "agitation," and then by co-operation with the Board of Trade. They have organized junior civic leagues, established playgrounds, cut down weeds and obtained new street signs. A cleaning up day was observed last April. More debris was collected than the city could take care of, so hoodlums were in requisition. The smoke nuisance is also receiving much attention and smoke consumers have been placed upon some manufactories and have given great satisfaction. Zanesville and many other towns have started junior civic leagues. Dayton is famous for school gardens and other civic work. At the Zanesville convention a full report of work was given by the chairman, followed by discussion on "How to arouse an interest in Civic Improvement." Resolutions were adopted concerning the impending destruction of Niagara, Mrs. Agnes McGiffert Pound of Ashtabula is chairman of the Civic Improvement committee, Ohio Federation Women's Clubs.

Planning to Lay Out the Grounds at the State Sanatorium.

Providence Methodist Ministers Oppose Sunday Theatrical Entertainments.

In response to a request by the board of trustees, a representative from the forestry division of the Department of Agriculture last week visited the State Sanatorium for Consumptives at Wallum Pond in Burrillville. The purpose of the visit, as outlined in the request of the trustees, was to advise the board as to the method to be followed in laying out the grounds around the institution to secure the most advantageous results. The extensive pine grove, which nearly surrounds the buildings, is in some parts more or less thickly strewn with undergrowth, and there are numerous other trees and shrubs of natural growth about the place, some of which can be utilized in the scheme for beautifying the place which the government representative suggested. In the clearing-out process the first consideration will be the preservation of the pines, which constitute one of the essential features of the location as a site for a consumptive hospital, and with not a great deal of labor the natural forest can be transformed into a beautiful pine grove, accessible in every part. The government representative also made suggestions for the planting and transplanting of shrubbery, the laying out of walks and floral beds and other improvements in the beautification of the grounds. One of the practical suggestions is the devotion of a plot of some 15 acres of open land for farming purposes in the spring, where it is estimated, can be raised much of the garden truck needed to supply the table at the institution during the summer and fall months at least. At present there are 60 patients at the sanatorium, and this week eight or ten more are expected to be sent there. A number of applications for admittance are pending before the examining physicians, and the indications at present are that the natural capacity of the institution, which is designed to accommodate 100, will be reached before spring.

The Methodist ministers at their weekly meeting in Providence yesterday made a vigorous protest against what they termed the "theatrical entertainments" which are held at two of the city theatres Sunday evenings. The ministers discussed the matter at some length, each concluding that the entertainments, held under "a thin guise of charity," ought to be stopped at once. Rev. Dr. C. M. Melden was appointed a committee to present the matter to the proper authorities, the police commissioners, and Rev. Ezra P. Stalley drew up a resolution voicing the protest of his associates. This resolution is to be presented to the police department in the hope that it will take measures to put a stop to proceedings which the clergymen believe are detrimental to the morals of the city.

The death last week of Dr. John Winsor, medical examiner for the district comprising Coventry and West Greenwich, has created a vacancy in that office which is sought for by two young physicians of Coventry. The appointment will be made by the governor, who has received notice of the aspirations of the two candidates. Of the two applicants, Dr. William S. Reoch of Harris is said to have a strong backing and to be well qualified for the position. He is the son of Robert Reoch, a well known man in that section of the state, and is a graduate of Brown University. He also was graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York city, and has had two years experience in the Hartford City Hospital, where, it is said, the frequency of post-mortem examinations fitted him for the position of medical examiner. The other applicant is Benjamin Tefft, son-in-law of John Matteson, town treasurer of Coventry. Dr. Tefft is a graduate of the University of Maryland, medical department, and also served a year in the University Hospital at Baltimore. He has been in active practice about a year.

Rev. Dr. Charles M. Sheldon, the well known author of "In His Steps," lectured at the Cranston Street Baptist Church, Providence, last evening under the auspices of the Christian Character Club of that church. The author devoted the greater part of the evening to reading one of his own unpublished stories dealing with the revival theme and illustrative of the coming of the Christian spirit into a family hitherto indifferent. After reading this story, which was listened to with much interest by the large audience, Dr. Sheldon said a few words about revivals. He predicted an upheaval in the religious world, as there has already been in the political, and the coming of a revival in the near future that shall bring the Christian spirit and a deeper and closer conception of the divine principles of Jesus Christ to thousands now only indifferently Christian. The upheavals and public demand for a new and better order of things, which have lately occurred in the business and political world, Dr. Sheldon believes to be an indication of similar desirable movements along spiritual lines.

Woonsocket had its first skating fatality of the winter yesterday afternoon, when Amadee Michaud, aged seven years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Michaud, broke through thin ice while skating on Bernon pond, of the Blackstone river, and was drowned. The search for the body was continued without success until 9:30 p. m., when it was abandoned for the night. The young lad with three companions had been skating on the thin ice for some time, when suddenly he broke through and went down. This occurred some 25 feet from the Bernon side of the pond. One of the first persons to respond to the alram was William H. White, a Bernon Street blacksmith, who made a heroic but unsuccessful effort to rescue the boy. Mr. White pushed two ladders out on the ice and then began to crawl over the ladders to the point where the boy had disappeared. Before he had reached the end of the first ladder the ice began to crack under his weight and for a moment he was in great danger himself. Men from No. 1 Fire Station, who had been watching him from the shore, pushed out another ladder to Mr. White and with the assistance of this he was able to reach the land.

Because an advance in wages announced three weeks ago did not come up to their expectations, the weavers employed at the mill of the Kent Woolen Company at Centreville quit work yesterday afternoon, and after voting to refuse the increased offer, 6½ per cent, left the mill. The weavers numbered 75 and every one of them and some of the loom fixers stopped work. The increase in wages, which applied only to the weavers, was announced three weeks ago, but the amount was not given. It was to take effect February 5, and when the new price list for weaving was posted in the weave room yesterday morning it was seen that instead of the ten per cent advance, which the weavers had led themselves to expect, it was only a fraction over six per cent.

Edwin Turner, 86 years of age, died at the East Side Hospital, Providence, Sunday night from disease incident to old age. The deceased was well known throughout New England in years past as an adjuster of losses for fire insurance companies, and was a member of the one-time insurance firm of Turner & Armstrong. He was a passenger on board the Metis, a propeller steamer, which ran between Providence and New York, and which sank about eight miles off Watch Hill, with a loss of 22 lives, on the morning of August 30, 1872. After the collision Mr. Turner, having buckled on a life preserver, jumped into the water, before the hull of the Metis sank. He attempted to get on board the hurricane deck, which, with a large crowd upon it, was floating toward the land, but failed to do so. At this juncture he perceived a bale of cotton floating near by and, reaching it, climbed on top. A Mr. Young, who it was afterward learned was a jeweler from Attleboro, came near him, floating on a piece of wreckage which barely sustained his weight. Reaching the bale, his strength was so exhausted that he was unable to climb on it, but held to the bale by his teeth, while Mr. Turner sat upon Mr. Young's hands, so that the latter would not be washed away. For four hours, with the rain beating savagely upon their heads, they drifted at the mercy of the wind and waves, until finally they drew near Watch Hill, and after a struggle against being swept away by the undertow both reached land in safety. Although he suffered no lasting physical effects from his terrible experience, mentally, Mr. Turner was never quite the same. Although in full possession of his faculties, he afterward seemed to lose his business energy and activity, and little by little gave up his work, so that for a few years he had ceased to carry on business.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, Feb. 6, 8 A. M.—Forecast: for Boston and vicinity—Fair tonight and Wednesday, with slowly rising temperature; fresh to brisk northerly to easterly winds, diminishing.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

There is some cloudiness with light snow in parts of the lake region, and light to moderate rains in southern Texas and westward along the Mexican border over southern California, but otherwise the weather today is fair. This morning the centre of the high pressure was over the upper St. Lawrence valley, with barometer near 30.9 inches. The temperature is low in all sections except the eastern gulf and South Atlantic states, although higher and rising in the central valleys. This morning at 8 a. m. in New England it ranged from 22 below zero in northern Vermont to about zero along the coast, at New York it was 6, Washington 8, Jacksonville 48, New Orleans 38, Chicago 10, Denver 12, San Francisco 54 and Portland, Ore., 40.

ANOTHER COLD WAVE.

Mercury Dropped to About 10, and the Wind Was Sharp.

Though the Ice is Yet Thin, a Crop Has Often Been Harvested Later.

Ever since that groundhog myth was worked off on an unsuspecting public it has looked like ice cutting. There have been some days which were not frosty, but the ice indications have been quite continuous and the ice men, though they say no ice this year, are looking forward to some cutting. Had it not been for the heavy wind which accompanied last week's cold there would be a good coating of ice on the ponds today. As is was, only about an inch and a half of ice formed last Friday, and it did not strengthen until last night, when the wind veered to the northwest and it came out cold again, dropping gradually until along toward midnight it reached 17.

There was a still further fall during the night, and at 6 this morning it read 12 above at the Water Works station. This was supposed to be the coldest, but it was not, for the wind took a shift to the northeast and the temperature dropped two more degrees and at 8:30 stood at 10, which seems to have been low mark. Of course there were thermometers that registered much lower; one read 6 at 9:30 this morning, but it was a sort of "yaller" thermometer and its sayings do not go. one stood at 74 (in the sun) at noon today. As the day wore on the temperature rose to 20 at noon. The wind also rose and was quite sharp, and made it feel much colder than it really was.

Last night there was an attempt at rain, and then it tried to snow, and finally gave up the attempt and came out clear. It is still clear, with a bright sun.

The ponds are coated with the exception of a few holes, and if the cold only holds on there will be ice to cut. Some seem to think there will be no ice cut here this season, but it does not follow there will not be. In 1879, for instance, it was about March 12 before any ice was cut and it was done by March 22, but there was ice cut in the interim. Again in 1879 it was March when ice was secured, and on many occasions the cutters have depended upon March to help them out; most of the cutting has been done in February and March in many years, and in years past the ice men have not been afraid. The only thing is the fact that there has been no snow this season.

Some one suggests that the milkmen have a hard time coming in under existing weather conditions. But how different things were last year, with the snow piled up and ice everywhere that snow did not hold forth. The harbor was filled with ice, all the ferryboats were landing at Long wharf, which was not then repaired, and walking or driving was not at all to be compared with the conditions that exist today, even if the wind is a trifle keen.

Owing to the lack of snow and the open condition of the ground this winter, which has permitted the rainfall to disappear, there are not the little pools of water to freeze, which are usually enjoyed so much by younger skaters. The ice on the larger ponds has not thus far reached a thickness which has furnished an inducement to lovers of skating, who desire a safe margin of safety, and so few of those who had skates for Christmas have yet been able to make use of them.

There was what appeared to be a right snow squall this afternoon. Flakes were seen floating and falling almost like snow, but some of them were large enough for fair-sized pieces of paper, while others resembled the snow that might fall on a cold day. At the same time the sun was shining brightly and there was no other indication of snow in the weather conditions, so it was decided that it could not be a snow squall. If it was not snow, what was it?

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Miss Catherine Gardner is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Clark in Shannock, R. I.

Miss Louise Carr will entertain several of her schoolmates at luncheon this afternoon.

A number of people from Jamestown attended the matinee at the Newport Opera House yesterday.

Arrangements are being made for a social at Saunderstown, for the benefit of the free library there.

Mr. Harrison Littlefield returned today from Washington, D. C., where he has been employed since last September.

Master Edward Brooks was able to be out of doors for a short time yesterday for the first time since his recent illness.

Captain and Mrs. E. A. Helmick have gone to Springfield on a short business trip. Captain Helmick and family will leave shortly for the Pacific coast, and later for the Philippines, where he has been ordered.

Ice has formed on Clarke's pond thick enough to make skating safe, and the young people are taking advantage of the first good skating of the season.

MR. LONGWORTH'S BEST MAN AND USHERS.

At the wedding of Miss Alice Roosevelt and Nicholas Longworth Boston and Harvard University will be conspicuously represented. Thomas Nelson Perkins, who will be the best man, was Mr. Longworth's classmate at Harvard and is now a member of the Harvard corporation. The Boston ushers, with the exception of Larz Anderson, who is Mr. Longworth's cousin, were also classmates. They are Quincy A. Shaw, Jr.; Francis R. Bangs and Guy Norman, all members of the Hasty Pudding Club with the bridegroom at Harvard.

Mr. Perkins is a lawyer, a member of the board of fellows of Harvard University and prominent in athletics for 15 years, since his 'varsity crew days at Yale, in 1891. Quincy Adams Shaw, Jr., is a director of the Calumet & Hecla Copper Company, of which his uncle is the head. His marriage, in 1898, to Miss Sarah Pemberton of Philadelphia was one of the society events of the year. Guy Norman is a member of the banking house of Norman Brothers and of the Boston Stock Exchange. His wife is a daughter of the late General Palfrey of Salem.

Francis Reginald Bangs is a member of the board of aldermen of Boston. He married Miss Anna Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Anderson of Commonwealth avenue. Larz Anderson has spent several years in the diplomatic service at Rome. In 1897 he married Miss Isabel Perkins of Boston and Newport. His father, General Robert Anderson, commanded Fort Sumter at the outbreak of the Civil war.

ARMS IMPORTED INTO FINLAND.

Natives Preparing for Open War in Support of Revolutionists.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 6.—The Novoe Vremya today continued its revelations in regard to the importations of arms into Finland. The paper declared it had evidence that the radical organization in Finland was preparing for open war, in support of the next outbreak of the Russian revolutionists. Not only were well armed infantry forces being drilled, but horses were being trained for cavalry and artillery service, and shells for field artillery were being imported.

The statements of the Novoe Vremya are undoubtedly correct so far as the Finnish extremists are concerned, but the nationalists and even the Social Democrat organizations disclaim any connection or even sympathy with violent measures.

The appointment of General Langhoff, former commander of the Semlonovsky regiment, to be state secretary of Finland, the connecting link between the emperor and the grand duchy, is unsatisfactory to the Finlanders. General Langhoff, though a native Finn, has been a lifetime in the Russian service, and has no administrative qualities. The governor of Bjoerneborg, who was the Finnish candidate for the state secretaryship, was rejected, although his candidacy was supported by Count Witte.

VICEROY OF FAR EAST.

General Grodekoff Will Probably Secure Appointment.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 6.—Reports which have been in circulation for several days to the effect that General Grodekoff, who was governor of the Amur territory during the Boxer uprising, and who became noted for his ruthless measures in restoring order in the Amur region and in Manchuria, will be appointed viceroy of the Far East, with command of the land and sea forces, are semi-authoritatively confirmed. General Grodekoff, who is 52 years old, and a member of the Council of the Empire, left St. Petersburg last week for Harbin. General Linevitch, commander of the Manchurian armies, will probably retire. His name has been mentioned in connection with the viceroyalty of the Caucasus.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. James Devine is confined to his home by illness.

—Mr. and Mrs. John A. Congdon are here from New York.

—The beach chen has at last made its appearance in goodly numbers.

—Barge Muncy has arrived with a cargo of coal for D. J. Sullivan & Co.

—Mrs. John P. Simmons of Bristol is visiting Mrs. Robert Babcock on Broadway.

—A number of rows came in last night for a harbor, and all proceeded this morning.

—Barge Madeline is discharging a cargo of Scranton coal for the Almy Coal Company.

—Mr. A. G. Vanderbilt left last night in his private car Wayfarer, attached to the 9 o'clock train.

—United States Hotel arrivals include E. J. Hickey of Boston, K. Meier of New York and seven members of the Ryan Stock Company.

—Woodworth & James, W. L. Potter, A. P. Goodrich and Thomas H. Waterman of Boston and Edward P. Ryan of New York are registered at the Perry House.

—The Merry Five gave a straw ride last night. It was on wheels, though it was cold enough for runners, and the party had to make things lively to keep their blood in circulation.

—The United States engineer force has been making soundings about the Giant Island spit, preliminary to a report by Lieutenant Colonel Willard on a further widening of the channel at that point.

—Mr. Armand Pinard, a well known caterer, former owner of the Club Cottage on Bellevue avenue and a cousin of the late Charles Narrisse and John A. Pinard, is very ill at the Newport Hospital.

—The local Chinamen have commenced their new year's celebration and are again attending to the laundry and restaurant business. According to official figures, there are 27 Chinamen in Newport.

—There was no criminal business before the district court this morning, but there was a long-drawn-out hearing on a civil case, decision being reserved. The case of Carl Mathes was set for trial Friday next.

—Dr. Barnes, superintendent of the State Sanatorium for Consumptives, has made arrangements whereby the friends of patients from Newport may hear weekly of their condition by applying Tuesdays to Mr. J. Truman Burdick.

—Frederick H. Paine has sold for Elizabeth D. Leyba her property on Rhode Island avenue, opposite Francis street, and on Prairie avenue, to Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, Jr. The Leyba cottage was built by the late Lansing Zabriskie.

—Ex-Congressman Hall left for Boston today, en route to join Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hunter's private car party for the Pacific coast. Mr. Frederick H. Paine expected to be a member of the party, but was unable to go on account of business.

—The ice on the ponds is a trifle rough for good skating, though it is thick enough to be safe, near the shore. Those who venture out into the midst of things should take a life preserver along, for there are holes and probably very thin ice.

—Two trees were moved from the Wells estate on Bellevue avenue to "Willow Bank" on Spring street this morning. The weather the present year has not been of the kind best suited for tree moving, as the ground has been too soft and the much desired ball of earth has not clung to the roots.

—A whist party was given at the residence of Alexander Gillies on Webster street last evening. The Wayside Quartet rendered a number of selections and refreshments were served. The prize-winning couples were John Reynolds and Miss May Finn, James Brown and Miss May Buckles and Alexander Gillies and Miss Bertina Wieting.

—Mr. Chauncey M. Slade, a dry goods dealer, who has been coming to Newport for 20 years and who is at the Perry House for a few days, has been elected president of the Commercial Travelers' Mutual Relief Association of New England, with a membership exceeding 3,000. In honor of the event a few of his Newport friends gave him a dinner at the Perry House this afternoon.

—Fire caused by a lace curtain blowing against a gas jet gutted the parlors of Mrs. James R. Busk on the second floor of the four-story brownstone house at 31 West Forty-ninth street last evening. Servants forming a bucket brigade checked the flames until the arrival of the firemen, who confined the fire to the floor on which it started. In the parlors were many valuable paintings, rugs and pieces of bric-a-brac, all of which were ruined either by fire or water. The loss exceeds $10,000.

MORE THAN $28,000.

Work of Raising Y. M. C. A. Fund Vigorously Pursued.

Contribution of $1,000 from Major and Mrs. Gibbs Helps Swell the Total.

The several committees on the Young Men's Christian Association buildings fund movement met last evening to talk over the situation and consider plans for continuing the work. Representatives were present from the committee of 15, the citizens' committee, the members' committee and the army and navy sub-committees. The lists were carefully gone over under the direction of General Secretary Dadmun, and plans made for pushing the work to the end that the $50,000 may be secured by February 22. General confidence was shown in the success of the project.

Chief Yeoman F. J. Buenzle, subchairman of the committee at the Training Station, reported that the apprentices are much interested in the building movement, and that plans were being made to have athletic events and other entertainments the coming season for the fund. The apprentices have but little money to give, but are willing to devote their services to help the movement. Mr. Buenzle reported contributions amounting to $27.70 from the following men at the Station: C. C. Alger, C. Riggin, F. Kurtz, Fred J. Buenzle, J. Brown, J. O. Butts, U. S. Morrison, A. C. J. Sheets, I. Vietry, P. R. Payne, J. A. Johnson, A. W. Babcock, James C. Johnson, George Felix, P. G. Mitchell, T. F. Callahan, W. T. Bondschuh, James P. Smith, E. P. Smith, E. T. Stern, J. H. Stark, George Boden, B. J. French, T. F. McCarthy, Thomas L. McKenna, L. G. Smith, Joseph Bonosshski, Charles E. Fredenberg, G. A. Ammons, R. L. Reilly, H. E. Vosberg, Robert Jolly, J. Woodward, V. E. Smith, C. Hotchkiss, J. J. Kent, R. O'Brien, A. H. Soulby, George Goggia, F. D. Steward, P. J. Devers, Charles Jackson, F. R. Engstrom, E. F. Blume, G. Conover, W. F. Browne, H. Howard and F. C. Pratt.

Sergeant Fred P. Jacobs. One Hundred and Tenth Company, coast artillery, reported an active interest in the movement among the soldiers at the forts, and the expectation that they will hold athletic events during the coming summer and otherwise assist in securing funds.

Yesterday the $27,000 mark was passed, and today a contribution from Major and Mrs. Theodore K. Gibbs marks still another $1,000 step in the progress towards the needed sum. The contributions since yesterday's report in the News are as follows:

John Gladding, Jr.,	$10.00
G. C. Lundgren,	5.00
Cash	10.00
Harry B. Oxx,	5.00

A friend	10.00
George B. Austin	35.00
Madame Robinson	5.00
Previously acknowledged	26,835.50
	$28,391.20

It is understood that the net receipts of the recent Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association bazaar were a little in excess of $1,000. The money will be used for the current expenses of the army and navy branch in this city.

THE CITY COUNCIL OUTLOOK.

The city council will hold its February meeting this evening. There are no rumors around that have been caught, but it would not be at all alarming if there was another talk fest in store for the reporters, who do not get any more for reporting a meeting which uses up a good lead pencil than they do for one of those short sessions. Of course, the police appropriations will come up again, possibly in the same form as before, and of course there must be an appropriation for the police. It seems very dubious about there being any increase of pay for the patrolmen. The usual flow of eloquence may be looked for in the Common Council, in accordance with notice given some time since. Fire department matters are likely to call for some talk, as it was evident at the last meeting that the members are not a unit on this question.

At the first meeting of the Council this year it was suggested that the city documents might be cut somewhat, saving paper and money and reducing the printing bill. This is not satisfactory from a printer's point of view, but that it can be done is readily seen on looking at the city documents of last year. The entire book, documents and tax list, can be made very much smaller without cutting out anything which the public cares to know. The last volume could have been cut one sixth easily without loss of information, and a careful pruning of reports would probably show a much greater reduction.

REGARDED AS AN INSULT TO HOUSE.

and its officers were interested in coal companies shipping over its lines.

Mr. Gillespie has prepared a resolution, which he will introduce, requesting the President to direct the interstate commerce commission to make an immediate investigation of all these charges.

The investigation provided for in the queries to be made by the interstate commerce commission:

First, whether the roads carrying coal have any ownership or interest in the mines.

Second, whether the officers of these roads are interested personally in the mines.

Third, whether there is any contract between the mines and the roads creating a monopoly in bituminous coal.

Fourth, if such above facts are found to exist, then the commission is required to give a detailed report.

Fifth, the commission is to report as to the system of coal car distribution.

Sixth, it is suggest a remedy.

Seventh, to report facts and conclusions it may deem pertinent.

Eighth, to make the investigation at its earliest opportunity.

REPLIES TO SPOONER'S SPEECH.

Senator Bacon Begins Argument on Moroccan Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Mr. Bacon, who has been ill, was in his seat for the first time in three weeks when the Senate met today, and at his instance the senate consented unanimously to re-consider the votes by which the bill for the re-organization of the dental corps of the army and the bill increasing the efficiency of the medical department of the army were passed.

When the routine morning business was concluded, Mr. Patterson's resolution relative to the recent Democratic caucus was laid before the Senate, and Mr. Patterson stated that when yesterday he gave notice he would speak on the resolution today he did not know that Mr. Bacon had given a previous notice for today. He therefore announced that he would address the Senate tomorrow at the conclusion of the morning hour.

Mr. Bacon then proceeded with his argument on his Moroccan resolution. He announced that he meant to be entirely impersonal, and said that there was no justification for the charge that this discussion was an assault on the present occupant of the executive chair.

The speech was in the main a plea for the right of the Senate to "advise and consent" in the matter of the negotiation of treaties, and was largely a reply to Mr. Spooner's recent speech on this question.

Mr. Tillman's resolution, directing the committee on immigration to make an investigation of the Chinese boycott of American goods, was reported by Mr. Kean, from the committee on contingent expenses, and adopted.

SENATOR PETTUS ILL.

Recovered From Attack and Took Seat in the Chamber.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Senator Pettus of Alabama had an attack of illness in the Democratic cloak room early today, but soon recovered and took his seat in the Senate chamber. Senator Gallinger, who is a physician, was called to see him by Senators, who thought Mr. Pettus was in a serious condition. The Alabama Senator is 81 years old.

Smoot Hearings Postponed Until Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The resumption of the hearings in the case of Senator Smoot by the Senate committee on privileges and elections, which was to have begun today, was postponed until tomorrow, owing to the fact that so many members of the committee had other committee engagements.

TAFT ANGRY AT ENGINEER WALLACE

Did Not Want Analysis of the Year's Work.

Ex-Official Encountered Great Difficulties.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—John F. Wallace, former chief engineer of the Isthmian canal, was again before the Senate committee on inter-oceanic canals today. He gave a minute account of the conditions he found on the isthmus and the difficulties he met in getting supplies and the delays that occurred in filling requisitions.

While he was cabling to have orders expedited, he said, he received word from Admiral Walker that colliers cost money. It was a delicate hint, he said, that he had better not use the cables so much.

"The work I did," said Mr. Wallace, "extended over a complete year. I was working along a definite program which I intended to put in writing in my annual report had I been permitted to make a report. I experimented with the French excavators so as to tell whether it would be the more economical to use or destroy these machines, which cost probably $30,000,000. I experimented far enough to know that these machines were not fit for use."

Telling of these experiments, Mr. Wallace said he had not estimated that because excavating could be done in March for 43 cents a cubic yard, it could be done for the same cost in the rainy season in May. He said he understood that the cost had gone up a great deal after he left. The organization was demoralized, he said, for the reason that the men had seen their chief discredited, and knew that a successor was to be appointed who would not be in sympathy with the work that had been done.

It was brought out that Mr. Wallace's successor had not the benefit of his analysis of the year's work and his recommendations, because the Secretary of War told him he did not want it and had no use for him except on the isthmus as directing engineer.

"Do you mean he was angry?" asked Senator Morgan.

"Yes, sir, so angry in his treatment he all but cursed me," replied Mr. Wallace.

At this point a recess was taken.

HOPEFUL FOR TREATY.

"White House Democrats" to the Rescue.

Pure Food Bill Being Pushed Forward in the House—A Story on Mark Smith.

(Washington correspondence of the News.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The process of procuring Democratic votes for the Santo Doulngo treaty is being watched with interest by men on both sides of the party aisle in the Senate. Six or seven Democrats, it is figured, are necessary to make the two-thirds vote in the Senate which must be had to ratify the treaty, assuming that all Republicans will vote for ratification and that now seems to be taken for granted. Every Democrat that supports the treaty does so at the risk of displeasing the majority of his party, which has taken a position antagonistic to that of the President. "White House Democrats" is an appellation given the Democrats who support administration measures.

Chairman Wadsworth of the House committee on agriculture in the last Congress opposed the pure food bill and will oppose the measure again if it is brought forward. He says it is unnecessary, as the legislation which has been enacted in various agricultural appropriation bills sufficiently protects the people. Wadsworth thinks that too much legislation will do more harm than good. "We don't want a vast array of men," he says, "sneaking around and prying into everybody's business." At the same time Pete Hepburn's committee is going forward with hearings on the bill, and there seems a determination in many quarters to push the measure forward in the House.

Senator Frye recently presented data to the Senate showing why there should be a consulate in either Alberta or Saskatchewan, the new provinces in Canada. It is chiefly interesting for the facts contained about Americans in that new country, which has been aptly termed "the lost west." Among the interesting facts in the brief circular presented by the Maine Senator are the following:

"This country, including these provinces, is developing more rapidly than any district in the world since the discovery that wheat can be successfully raised there.

"American citizens predominate, 181,000 coming in ten months.

"American capitalists have established a distributing trade centre at Calgary, in the province of Alberta, from which place goods are shipped over the entire northwest in rapidly increasing quantities. They have built 15 grain elevators in Alberta.

"The wheat yield in these two provinces last year was 88,500,000 bushels. In Alberta more than 1,000,000 pounds of butter were produced last year.

"Canada is third in the list of creameries of the United States and likely soon to be second.

"The town of Calgary, in the province of Alberta, has already 15,000 inhabitants, of whom 13,000 are Americans."

Chairman Andrews of the Republican state committee of Pennsylvania is an important figure in Washington, where as chief clerk of the Senate committee on postoffice he handles a vast amount of business connected with the Senate. In the matter of Presidential appointments alone he has to handle more than any other person, as the postal appointments are, Colonel Andrews takes care of all this executive business and is able to keep the confirmations abreast of the appointments. Besides his duties in connection with the Senate, all the work of the Pennsylvania organization devolves upon him. In fact, it did before he became chairman of the committee, for as secretary he performed nearly all the political work he does as chairman.

Representative Sperry of Connecticut is a firm temperance advocate and is chairman of the committee on alcoholic liquor traffic, a place usually given to some earnest worker in the cause of temperance. One day he was standing in the area of the House with a disconsolate look on his venerable countenance, and Delegate Mark Smith passed by.

"What are you looking down your nose like that for?" inquired the good humored delegate.

"Why, you see," answered Sperry, "I have a little liquor bill over in the Senate."—

"Pay it, my friend; pay it and get it off your mind," interrupted the merry Mark and passed on, leaving the Connecticut man half dazed.

John T. Chancey has been employed in the House of Representatives 50 years. He came when Buchanan was President and Nathaniel P. Banks, afterward General Banks, was Speaker of the House. For years he has been on the rolls as a "special employe," and he has no regular hard duties, though he is a sort of all around bureau of information for the Republican members. That they appreciate his service was shown recently by the fact that nearly every Republican member "chipped in" $10 apiece to give Chancey a present on the date when he completed his fiftieth year in the House. They did this so that he could pay off the mortgage on his house and use the balance for such other purposes as he best suited him.

PRESERVATIVES IN FOOD.

Attitude of the Department of Agriculture Shown in Statement.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—An inquiry recently came to the Department of Agriculture from an importer of Frankfurter sausages, asking if there was any objection to the use of salicylic or boracic acid or any preservative to keep the meat. If that fact be plainly stated on the label. The German manufacturer, because of objection by the Department of Agriculture, had discontinued using any preservative, and the importer said that the sausages do not keep very well without it.

In a decision published by authority of Secretary Wilson, the attitude of the Department of Agriculture is stated substantially as follows:

"The addition of any preservative of any kind to a food product may be objected to, first, when the added body is not mentioned on the label; second, the added substance itself may be deemed injurious to health; third, the added substance may be forbidden by the laws of the country in which the foods are made or from which they are exported.

"Both boracic and salicylic acids are prohibited by the German laws. Benzoate of soda has been declared by this department to be injurious to health. It does not appear that there is any conclusive reason for the use of any preservatives in sausages except the usual conditional ingredients—salt, vinegar, spices and woodsmoke.

"Until the results of experiments conducted in the bureau of chemistry are declared, small quantities of benzoic acid and benzoates, salicylic acid and salicylates, sulphurous acid and sulphites and copper sulphate are permitted in food products when plainly declared upon the label, and when not forbidden by the laws of the countries where the foods are produced or from which they are exported."

EX-COLLECTOR OF HONOLULU.

Death of Colonel William F. Allen in That City Announced.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—F. H. Allen received a cable message yesterday from Honolulu announcing the death of his half brother, Colonel William F. Allen, aged 51 years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Cordelia Allen Colonel Allen was born in Brattleboro, Vt., and went to Hawaii when his father, Elijah H. Allen, was sent there as United States minister. He served as collector of the port of Honolulu for many years. His title was granted by King Kalakaua, on whose staff he served.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. E. H. Bulkley will soon go abroad.

—Mrs. Potter Palmer has sailed for Europe.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Wetherell have sailed for London.

—Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt have returned from Montreal.

—Mr. and Mrs. Moses Taylor were passengers on the Deutschland, for the Mediterranean, today.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Andrews sailed for Europe from New York today on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse.

—The St. George's School Boys have secured two wharfboats for water excursions, and recently brought them from Fall River.

—The members of Lodge Carl XV, No. 59, of West Orders are looking forward with favorable anticipations to the dance to be given under the auspices of the lodge.

—Mrs. Benjamin Known has been placed in mourning by the death of her sister, Mrs. Charles Leslie Morgan. The father of Mrs. Known and Mrs. Morgan was the late John Allen of Connecticut.

—Mrs. William Spencer Child has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Miss Jessie Isabelle Child, and Joseph P. Cotton, Jr., Saturday, February 24, at 12 o'clock, at St. James Church, Twenty-second and Walnut street, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh left Washington for New York yesterday, this being the first time she has left her daughter, Miss Evelyn Walsh, since the accident in this city last summer, the condition of the young woman warranting the mother's absence at this time.

Steamer City of Brockton, which has been running on the New Bedford route, has taken the place of the Maine on the Providence route, the Maine going to the New London route. The Nashua, which was laid up at Providence, has gone on the New Bedford route.

—A local fire alarm system is being installed in the Perry House, and connection with box 3 is said to be one of the possibilities before the improvements at the house are completed. In other cities large buildings are connected with nearby boxes by devices which have proved of practical value.

—It has been the habit of a number of Newporters all winter to run up to Fall River each week to witness the vaudeville bills offered at Sheedy's Theatre. This week, with an attraction which even Providence does not secure, Mr. Sheedy is expecting to see many of his summer patrons. Leaving Newport at noon one can see the matinee and be back in Newport the same evening.

—At the meeting of the board of selectmen of the city of New York yesterday Mr. Egerton L. Winthrop, jr., was elected president. Mr. Winthrop is a son of Mr. Egerton L. Winthrop, one of Newport's best known summer residents, and himself well known in this city. He married a daughter of Mr. John C. Hickshaw and a sister of the wife of Mayor George B. McClellan of New York.

Last evening another enjoyable subscription social was given in Masonic hall, under the direction of Misses Carrie Daly, May O'Neill, Annie Robinson and Martha Meehan. The red crepe paper shades over the electric lights gave the hall an Oriental appearance, while on the platform aimed palms and potted plants the Howard Orchestra rendered a pleasing program. At midnight salads were served, and during the evening lemonade.

HARRIMAN RAILWAYS TO MERGE

Consolidation to Include Illinois Central, Union and Southern Pacific.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—The Tribune today says: Plans for a consolidation of Harriman railways have been perfected, and a public announcement is expected soon. Nominally the proposed merger includes only the Illinois Central and Union Pacific, but the Southern Pacific, now operated practically as part of the Union Pacific system, will really form part of the combined lines.

Instead of the Union Pacific company taking control of the Illinois Central, as has been reported, it is the Illinois Central which is to get control of the Union Pacific. This will be done through the purchase of the Union Pacific by means of an issue of collateral trust bonds.

It was asserted positively yesterday that the plan which E. H. Harriman and Illinois Central interests have been working on contemplates offering Union Pacific shareholders either $175 or $200 a share for Union Pacific stock in four per cent guaranteed bonds, with the purchased stock of the Union Pacific as collateral security. The financial operation will be similar to that of the purchase of the Burlington by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific through a collateral trust bond issue. The deal will be handled by the Railroad Securities Company, which was organized in 1896 by E. H. Harriman and Illinois Central interests to purchase Illinois Central stock.

GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

Formally Launched at American Motor League Meeting.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—The good roads movement, which has been agitating automobile circles, received its formal launching at the preliminary meeting of the American Motor League here yesterday. Isaac B. Potter, temporary president of the league, was formerly president of the League of American Wheelmen. Temporary organization was effected and next Saturday set as the date for permanent organization.

FRAUDULENTLY NATURALIZED.

Captain of Every Steamer Wrecked on the Pacific Coast.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—John E. Wilkie, chief of the United States secret service, said last night that the captain of every steamer which has been wrecked on the Pacific coast in the last three years has been found to have been fraudulently naturalized. The secret service bureau is working on fraudulent naturalization principally in San Francisco and Philadelphia and to some extent in New York.

DONNELLY IN LOUISVILLE.

President of Meat Cutters Disappeared From Cincinnati.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Michael Donnelly, president of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, who disappeared last Thursday from Cincinnati, is in Louisville, Ky., according to the Record-Herald. Mrs. Donnelly, who is ill at her home in this city, yesterday received a telegram from Louisville, saying that she might expect her husband home today. The telegram was signed "Mike," but contained no particulars regarding his departure from Cincinnati.

CLEAN SHEET CRUSADE.

Georgia Traveling Men Drafting Bill for Legislature.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—A despatch to the Record-Herald from Columbus, Ga., says: Georgia traveling men yesterday began a clean sheet crusade by drafting a bill which one of the members of the Travelers' Protective Association, who is a member of the legislature, will introduce, requiring hotel keepers to change the bed linen before assigning a room to a new guest. It is claimed that in some of the smaller towns the sheets are changed but once a week, no matter how many persons occupy the bed in that time.

TO BE SUSPENDED TWO YEARS.

Decision of University of Wisconsin Faculty Regarding Football.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 6.—After discussing the matter for seven hours last night, the faculty of the University of Wisconsin adopted resolutions reiterating its suggestion that football be suspended for two years, if the other universities of the "big nine" concur. It also declared in favor of the recommendations of the Chicago conference for a modification of the rules. The faculty asks President Angell of Michigan to call another conference.

LITTLE BOY'S AWFUL ECZEMA

For Two Years He Could Not Sit Nor Lie Still—Suffered Terribly with Pain and Itching—Scratched Till Flesh Was Raw—Grew Worse Under Doctor's Care.

SPEEDILY CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"When my boy was six years old he suffered terribly with eczema. He could neither sit still nor lie in bed quiet, for the itching was dreadful. He would irritate spots by scratching with his nails, and that only made it worse. Nothing gave him any relief until I used the Cuticura Remedies, and I cannot praise them too much. A doctor treated him, and we tried almost everything, but the eczema seemed to spread. It started in a small place on the lower extremities and spread for two years until it very nearly covered the back part of his leg to the knee.

"Finally I got Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, and gave them according to directions. I used them first in the morning, and that evening before I put my boy to bed I used them again, and the improvement even in those few hours was surprising, the inflammation seemed to be so much less. I used two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, the same of the Pills and the Soap, and my boy was cured. He has never had a return of the eczema since. I hope you will publish my letter so the public will know what Cuticura has done for my boy. (signed) Mrs. A. J. Cochran, Jr., 1823 Columbia Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa., April 13, 1905."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for every Humor, from Pimples to Scrofula, from Infancy to Age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, 25c, Ointment, 50c, Pills, 25c, (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c, per vial of 60), may be had of all druggists. Address of Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Runaway Freight Crashes Into Passenger Train.

Several Persons Dead and Others Missing.

HELENA, Mont., Feb. 6.—A disastrous railroad wreck occurred last night shortly before midnight, two and a half miles west of this city. A runaway Northern Pacific freight train crashed into a passenger train on the same line, wrecked it completely, set fire to it and up to 3 o'clock this morning four persons whose identity is assured were known to be dead, with a probability that two more whose names it is impossible to learn may have been burned in the wreck.

The known dead are: J. N. Robinson, Missoula; Charles Brickle, conductor passenger; J. A. Jessup, express messenger; Foster Senegal, merchant of Ellliston.

Brakeman Edward Brown was seriously injured, but not fatally. None of the passengers who escaped with their lives were seriously injured.

The passenger train passed through Austin, about eight miles west of Helena, on time. Following it was a long freight train made up of box and flat cars, loaded with lumber and shingles. At Austin the engine was uncoupled from the freight to take water, and the train was left standing on the track. There is a steep grade east of Austin, and by some means the freight train got started down the hill. The passenger train was standing at the Montana Central crossing, when the engineer heard a sound behind him that warned him of danger. He started his train, but it had gone but a few feet when the runaway crashed into the rear car. There were but two cars in the passenger train, and these were smashed and thrown into the ditch. The engine did not leave the track and Engineer Petty managed to keep ahead of the flying freight. The freight went probably 600 feet when it, too, went off the track. In a few minutes fire started and for hours the cars and the lumber burned fiercely.

The crash of the collision was heard by persons living in the vicinity who immediately started for the wreck. They found the combination car on fire, and pinned under a mass of wreckage was Messenger Jessup. He was unconscious and heroic efforts were made to release him, but the flames finally compelled the rescuers to withdraw. Jessup, still conscious, struggled to release himself as the fire took hold of his limbs, but the effort was fruitless, and after a few screams of agony he became unconscious.

Exposed to full view with blazing shingles all about him, and his bed a mass of red hot coals, was the body of an unknown man. It was slowly consumed until all that was left was the skull and outstretched arms, two stumps that a few hours before had been arms.

There are supposed to have been eight passengers on the train, of which number two are still unaccounted for.

THIRTY-SIX BODIES FOUND.

Twelve More Recovered From Wreck of the Valencia.

VICTORIA, British Columbia, Feb. 6.—Thirty-six bodies of the Valencia victims have been recovered, including 12 brought in yesterday, nine men and three women. Of the latter four have been identified as O. W. Ingleharne of Ferndale, Washn.; Chas Brickson of San Jose, H. M. Peters of Los Angeles and Peter Glude of Brownville, Washn. Two others are thought to be the bodies of G. B. Montgomery, quartermaster and Fred Starr of San Francisco.

COLD WEATHER GENERAL.

Only Exception Found in the South Atlantic States.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—A statement of weather conditions and general forecast issued by the weather bureau today says:

"The cold wave has reached the New England and Middle Atlantic coast, and cold weather is general this morning east of the Rocky mountains except in the South Atlantic states, the temperature ranging from 10 to 35 degrees below the seasonal average. In central and northern New York the minimum temperatures were from 5 to more than 20 degrees below zero, and the line of zero temperature extends into northern Kentucky. Low temperature will continue tonight and Wednesday from the Ohio valley and lower lake region eastward, although there will be some moderation Wednesday. It will be colder tonight in the South Atlantic states and warmer Wednesday in the east Gulf states.

Storm warnings are displayed on the Atlantic coast from Norfolk to Hatteras.

NOT SO COLD AS SATURDAY.

Northerly Wind in Boston Causes Much Discomfort.

BOSTON, Feb. 6.—While not equalling last Saturday's minimum temperature of one degree below zero, the official thermometer at the local weather bureau stood at only 4 above zero at 8 a. m. today, lower than at any time during last night. A fresh northerly wind led pedestrians to believe that the temperature was even lower and caused much discomfort. Unofficial instruments in the suburbs registered from 1 to 4 degrees lower than that at the weather bureau.

The lowest point recoded by any government observer in New England was at Northfield, Vt., where at 8 a. m. the thermometer reading was 22 below zero. At Concord, N. H., it was 4 below, at Eastport, Me., 2 below, at Portland, Me., 2, at Providence, R. I., 6 and at Nantucket 24.

The fall in temperature in Boston was swift, yesterday's maximum having been 43, recorded at noon while at midnight it had dropped to 16.

COLDEST DAY OF THE WINTER.

Below-Zero Temperatures Registered in Parts of Connecticut.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 6.—In some parts of Connecticut today was the coldest day of the winter. The thermometers at Robertsville and Colebrook river, in the northwestern corner of the state, registered 16 degrees below zero, and at Norfolk it was 14 below, while in Winsted 10 below was registered at sunrise.

In New Haven the temperature was one degree warmer than in the cold snap last Friday. In Lakeville the thermometer stood at 13 degrees below.

Sixteen Below at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 6.—At the United States weather bureau the thermometer at 8 a. m. today registered 16 below zero, the coldest point reached in 24 hours.

Below-Zero Weather Near Amsterdam, N. Y.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Feb. 6.—The thermometer registered 19 degrees below zero in this city this morning. Johnstown reported 25 and Northville 35 below.

Forty Below at Camden, N. Y.

ROME, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Last night was the coldest of the season, the mercury going to 32 below in this city. The lowest reading reported in this vicinity comes from Camden, where 40 below was registered.

Coldest of the Winter at Saratoga.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Thirty degrees below zero was the temperature here at sunrise today, this being the coldest weather of the present winter.

Coldest Day of Winter in New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Today was the coldest of the present winter in New York city, the mercury touching 5 below zero in its downward slide. This was one degree colder than the previous low record for the winter.

From 30 to 40 Below in Adirondacks.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Feb. 6.—A temperature of 10 below zero was reported today from Loon Lake. Upper Chateaugay lake was frozen across, the temperature there being 30 below. Other temperatures reported from Adirondack points was 32 below at Lake Placid and 28 below at Saranac Lake. Here the mercury registered 18 below.

No Ice Famine Feared in Montpelier.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Feb. 6.—Fears of an ice famine in this section were allayed today by the coldest wave of the winter. In this city unofficial thermometers registered 30 below, while in the adjoining town of Barre private glasses showed 34 degrees below.

Snow in Bennington, Vt.

BENNINGTON, Vt., Feb. 6.—Sixteen degrees below zero was registered by unofficial thermometers here today, the lowest temperature of the winter. Two inches of snow preceded the sudden drop of the mercury.

Cold Wave in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

SUPERIOR, Wis., Feb. 6.—At 7:30 this morning the mercury stands at 25½ below zero. Yesterday's record of 28 below at 8 a. m. was broken at Hibbing, Minn., where the mercury fell to 31 below.

TO CONFER ON INSURANCE.

Thomas W. Lawson and Party Arrive in Des Moines.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 6.—Thomas W. Lawson of Boston arrived in Des Moines at 8:45 a. m. today for a conference with Governor Cummins in regard to the insurance investigation in Iowa. F. S. Monnett, former attorney general of Ohio; N. B. Broward, governor of Florida; Freemont Older, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, and several Boston newspaper men accompanied him. Governor Cummins met the party at the Rock Island station and drove to The Chamberlain.

TO RETAIN COACH YOST.

Michigan University Defies Football Conference Recommendations.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 6.—At a session lasting late last evening the University of Michigan senate voted practically unanimously to retain Coach Yost for the Michigan football eleven regardless of the recommendations of the recent Chicago football conference, which declared against professional coaches who were not faculty members. There was no great controversy over this question, Yost having a contract running four more years. The proposal made by the University of Chicago that football be abolished for two years was defeated by a decisive vote. It was decided to accept the Chicago conference recommendation for a three years' eligibility rule, but at the University of Michigan the rule is not to be retroactive; that is, it will not apply to students who entered college under the former conditions. This ruling of the senate will save Captain Curtis, Garrels, Barlow and Schulte, who have been in athletics three years and would have been ruled out under the Chicago recommendations.

When the proposition to abolish the training table was reached, a determined fight was started in favor of retaining the tables, but having won out on its principal contentions the opposition did not press its advantage and the rule to abolish training tables was endorsed, as were also the remaining resolutions of the Chicago conference.

PRICE 25 CENTS A POUND.

Immense Tobacco Crop for 1905 in Connecticut Spoken For.

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 6.—The deadlock existing between the tobacco growers and buyers in regard to the price of last year's crop is broken and it is now certain that a great quantity of the weed will change hands soon. A number of New York state buyers are here, and it is understood that the immense crop for 1905 is nearly all spoken for, the average price on sales being 25 cents a pound, although in some cases fancy prices of 30 to 35 cents have been paid by the big buyers. Much of the 1905 crop was lost through pole sweat.

FORMERLY CHIEF OF POLICE.

Death of Colonel Daniel A. Butler in New Bedford.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Feb. 6.—Colonel Daniel A. Butler, formerly chief of police of this city, died today at the age of 68 years. He served in the Union army in the Civil war, and was for many years interested in the militia. He was elected colonel of the First regiment, M. V. M., in 1888, to succeed Colonel Wellington, in command of that organization, but almost immediately resigned. He leaves a widow and an adopted daughter.

NEW POLICE BUILDING.

Preferred to School House by Marlboro Board of Aldermen.

MARLBORO, Mass., Feb. 6.—The board of aldermen at a meeting last night practically placed itself in a position whereby the erection of a building for the joint use of the police and fire departments and in which prisoners might be made comfortable was considered preferable to the construction of a schoolhouse, and as a result the citizens are considering the advisability of bringing about a re-consideration of the matter.

A resolution was introduced by Alderman C. F. McCarthy, providing for a new schoolhouse, the matter to be placed in the hands of a special committee for investigation. Alderman J. N. LeVeque moved that the resolution be referred to the committee which is already considering the erection of the police building, and this motion was carried, despite the statement that it would be well to consider the construction of more than one building at a time. He said it was a question of providing accommodations for 300 or 400 school children, or taking care of poor unfortunates who would be arrested and placed in the city lock up, which is in a bad condition. He favored the latter proposition, and he was supported when the vote was taken.

The proposed construction of a new school house has the support of hundreds of citizens, and the action of the aldermen in making the comfort of school children secondary to that of prisoners is expected to bring about interesting developments.

DRUGGISTS.

The price is such it doesn't count
So trivial is the sum,
Four hundred shaves—a hundred cents
Four shaves you get for one!

Contract Let by Wabash Railway Company, at $450,000.

CANTON, Ohio, Feb. 6.—Announcement is made here that a contract was let by the Wabash Railway Company Monday for the construction of the Molivar-Orrville cut-off of 23 miles. The price is $450,000 and work is to begin within 10 days. It is now admitted by railroad officials that the Sugar Creek & Northern railroad, a corporation recently organized under the laws of Ohio, is a Wabash project. The contract for the cut-off awarded Monday is given in the name of the Sugar Creek & Northern.

CANNOT HOLD MEETINGS.

Injunction Against Hayes Faction of the Knights of Labor.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Justice Anderson, in equity court No. 4, yesterday signed an injunction against the Hayes faction of the Knights of Labor. They are restrained from injuring, destroying or in any wise disposing of the records of the order; from calling or holding any meeting of the general assembly of the order, pending the determination of quo warranto proceedings on the law side of the court. The restraining order is not to go into effect until the complainants file an undertaking to be approved by the court.

Men and Women Unanimous About It.

Many women weep and wail and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Six Drops of Peppermint

Grandma used to give you those six drops of peppermint on a lump of sugar every time your "tummy" was out of order. FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6, Wall Street—The stock market opened firm, with Amalgamated Copper at 115¾, American Smelting 165, Atchison 92⅝, Anaconda 277, Baltimore & Ohio 111⅝, Brooklyn Transit 85⅞, Canadian 173¾, Erie 46½, Missouri Pacific 101⅞, New York Central 149⅝, Northern Pacific 212½, Ontario & Western 73⅝, Pennsylvania 142¾, Reading 157⅝, Rock Island 26⅞, Sugar 143¾, St. Paul 180½, Southern Railway 19⅝, Southern Pacific 68, Union Pacific 155¾, United States Steel 44½ and 104¾ ex. div., United States Steel preferred 119¾ ex. div., Wabash preferred 45.

10—Opening prices in the stock market showed general advances, mostly of moderate fractions. Colorado Fuel rose 1⅝ and Pittsburg Coal recovered 1¼ of yesterday's loss. Union Pacific, St. Paul and Amalgamated Copper made good fractional gains. Canadian Pacific declined a point. The dealings were on a moderate scale.

11—Prices rose briskly unopposed by any selling orders. Great Northern preferred gained 5⅜, Northern Pacific and Reading 2½, Lead 1⅜ and Union Pacific, St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Illinois Central, Louisville & Nashville, Kansas City Southern, Amalgamated Copper, United States Steel, the local tractions, Tennessee Coal, Locomotive and several others made 1 to 1½ point gains. Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste Marie lost 2⅝. Trading became dull at the higher level, but prices held firmly.

Noon—Money on call, steady, at 4 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4½ @ 5¼ per cent. The rapid advance of 5½ in Illinois Central was a sustaining influence in the market, but the volume of dealings was notably contracted from the average. Union Pacific and St. Paul seemed to be affected in sympathy with Illinois Central, the former rising 2¾ and the latter 2. Reading and Northwestern rose 3, Colorado Fuel 2½ and several other stocks 1 or more. The general list moved narrowly. Bonds were steady.

HOPEFUL FOR TREATY.

"White House Democrats" to the Rescue.

Pure Food Bill Being Pushed Forward in the House—A Story on Mark Smith.

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The process of procuring Democratic votes for the Santo Domingo treaty is being watched with interest by men on both sides of the party aisle in the Senate. Six or seven Democrats, it is figured, are necessary to make the two-thirds vote in the Senate which must be had to ratify the treaty, assuming that all Republicans will vote for ratification and that now seems to be taken for granted. Every Democrat that supports the treaty does so at the risk of displeasing the majority of his party, which has taken a position antagonistic to that of the President. "White House Democrats" is an appellation given the Democrats who support administration measures.

Chairman Wadsworth of the House committee on agriculture in the last Congress opposed the pure food bill and will oppose the measure again if it is brought forward. He says it is unnecessary, as the legislation which has been enacted in various agricultural appropriation bills sufficiently protects the people. Wadsworth thinks that too much legislation will do more harm than good. "We don't want a vast array of men," he says, "sneaking around and prying into everybody's business." At the same time Pere Hepburn's committee is going forward with hearings on the bill, and there seems a determination in many quarters to push the measure forward in the House.

Senator Frye recently presented data to the Senate showing why there should be a constable in either Alberta or Saskatchewan, the new provinces in Canada. It is chiefly interesting for the facts contained about Americans in that new country, which has been aptly termed "the lost west." Among the interesting facts in the brief circular presented by the Maine Senator are the following:

"This country, including these provinces, is developing more rapidly than any district in the world since the discovery that wheat can be successfully raised there.

"American citizens predominate. 131,000 coming in ten months.

"American capitalists have established a distributing trade centre at Calgary, in the province of Alberta, from which place goods are shipped over the entire northwest in rapidly increasing quantities. They have built 15 grain elevators in Alberta.

"The wheat yield in those two provinces last year was 88,500,000 bushels. In Alberta more than 1,000,000 pounds of butter were produced last year.

"Canada is third in the list of customers of the United States and likely soon to be second.

"The town of Calgary, in the province of Alberta, has already 15,000 inhabitants, of whom 12,000 are Americans."

Chairman Andrews of the Republican state committee of Pennsylvania is an important figure in Washington, where as chief clerk of the Senate committee on appropriations he handles a vast amount of business connected with the Senate. In the matter of Presidential appointments alone he has to handle more than any other person, as the postal appointments aggregate as the postal appointments are double all others put together. Colonel Andrews takes care of all this executive business and is able to keep the confirmations abreast of the appointments. Besides his duties in connection with the Senate, all the work of the Pennsylvania organization devolves upon him. In fact, it did before he became chairman of the committee, for as secretary he performed nearly all the political work he does as chairman.

Representative Sperry of Connecticut is a firm temperance advocate and is chairman of the committee on alcoholic liquor traffic, a place usually given to some earnest worker in the cause of temperance. One day he was standing in the area of the House with a disconsolate look on his venerable countenance, and Delegate Mark Smith passed by.

"What are you looking down your nose like that for?" inquired the good humored delegate.

"Why, you see," answered Sperry, "I have a little liquor bill over in the Senate"—

"Pay it, my friend; pay it and get it off your mind," interrupted the merry Mark and passed on, leaving the Connecticut man half dazed.

John T. Chancey has been employed in the House of Representatives 50 years. He came when Buchanan was President and Nathaniel P. Banks, afterward General Banks, was Speaker of the House. For years he has been on the rolls as a "special employe," and he has no regular fixed duties, though he is a sort of all around bureau of information for the Republican members. That they appreciate his services was shown recently by the fact that nearly every Republican member "chipped in" $10 apiece to give Chancey a present on the date when he completed his fiftieth year in the House. They did this so that he could pay off the mortgage on his house and use the balance for such other purposes as best suited him.

PRESERVATIVES IN FOOD.

Attitude of the Department of Agriculture Shown in Statement.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—An inquiry recently came to the Department of Agriculture from an importer of Frankfurter sausages, asking if there was any objection to the use of salicylic or benzoic acid or any preservative to keep the meat, if that fact be plainly stated on the label. The German manufacturer, because of objection by the Department of Agriculture, had discontinued using any preservative and the importer said that the sausages do not keep very well without it.

In a decision published by authority of Secretary Wilson, the attitude of the Department of Agriculture is stated substantially as follows:

"The addition of any preservative of any kind to a food product may be objected to, first, when the added body is not mentioned on the label; second, the added substance itself may be deemed injurious to health; third, the added substance may be forbidden by the laws of the country in which the foods are made or from which they are exported.

"Both boracic and salicylic acids are prohibited by the German laws. Boracic acid has been declared by this department to be injurious to health. It does not appear that there is any objection to its use for the use of any preservatives in sausages except the usual condimental ingredients—salt, vinegar, spices and woodsmoke.

"Until the results of experiments conducted in the bureau of chemistry are declared, small quantities of benzoic acid and benzoates, salicylic acid and salicylates, sulphurous acid and sulphites and copper sulphate are permitted in food products when plainly declared upon the label, and when not forbidden by the laws of the countries where the foods are produced or from which they are exported."

EX-COLLECTOR OF HONOLULU.

Death of Colonel William F. Allen in That City Announced.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—P. H. Allen received a cable message yesterday from Honolulu announcing the death of his half brother, Colonel William F. Allen, aged 51 years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Cordelia Allen. Colonel Allen was born in Brattleboro, Vt., and went to Hawaii when his father, Elijah H. Allen, was sent there as United States minister. He served as collector of the port of Honolulu for many years. His title was granted by King Kalakaua, on whose staff he served.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. E. H. Bulkley will soon go abroad.

—Mrs. Porter Palmer has sailed for Europe.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Wellwell have sailed for Jamaica.

—Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt have returned from Montreal.

—Mr. and Mrs. Moses Taylor were passengers on the Deutschland, for the Mediterranean, today.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Aubrain sailed for Europe from New York today on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse.

The St. George's School boys have secured two schoolmarms for water exercise, and recently brought them from Fall River.

—The members of Lodge Carl No. 59, of Vasa Order, are looking forward with favorable anticipations to the dance to be given under the auspices of the lodge.

—Mrs. Benjamin Knower has been placed in mourning by the death of her sister, Mrs. Charles Leslie Morgan. The father of Mrs. Knower and Mrs. Morgan was the late John Allen of Connecticut.

—Mrs. William Spencer, Child has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Miss Josie Isabelle Child, and Joseph P. Curtin, Jr., Saturday, February 24, at 12 o'clock, at St. James Church, Twenty-second and Walnut street, Philadelphia.

—Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh left Washington for New York yesterday, this being the first time she has left her daughter, Miss Evelyn Walsh, since the accident in this city last summer, the condition of the young woman warranting the mother's absence at this time.

—Steamer City of Lincoln, which has been running on the New Bedford route, has taken the place of the Maine on the Providence route, the Maine going to the New London route. The Nashua, which was laid up at Providence, has gone on the New Bedford route.

—A local fire alarm system is being installed in the Perry House, and connection with box 5 is said to be one of the possibilities before the improvements at the house are completed. In other cities large buildings are connected with nearby boxes by devices which have proved of practical value.

—It has been the habit of a number of Newporters all winter to run up to Fall River each week to witness the vaudeville bills offered at Sheedy's Theatre. This week, with an attraction which even Providence does not secure, Mr. Sheedy is expecting to see many of his summer patrons. Leaving Newport at noon, one can see the matinee and be back in Newport the same evening.

—At the meeting of the board of education of the city of New York yesterday Mr. Egerton L. Winthrop, Jr., was elected president. Mr. Winthrop is a son of Mr. Egerton L. Winthrop, one of Newport's best known summer residents, and himself well known in this city. He married a daughter of Mr. John G. Heckscher and a sister of the wife of Mayor George B. McClellan of New York.

—Last evening another enjoyable subscription social was given in Masonic hall, under the direction of Misses Carrie Doty, May O'Neill, Annie Robinson and Maymie Sheehan. The red crepe paper shades over the electric lights gave the hall an Oriental appearance, while on the platform tasteful palms and potted plants the Howard Orchestra rendered a pleasing program. At midnight salads were served, and during the evening lemonade.

HARRIMAN RAILWAYS TO MERGE

Consolidation to Include Illinois Central, Union and Southern Pacific.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—The Tribune today says: Plans for a consolidation of Harriman railways have been perfected, and a public announcement is expected soon. Nominally the proposed merger includes only the Illinois Central and Union Pacific, but the Southern Pacific, now operated practically as part of the Union Pacific system, will really form part of the combined lines.

Instead of the Union Pacific company taking control of the Illinois Central, as has been reported, it is the Illinois Central which is to get control of the Union Pacific. This will be done through the purchase of the Union Pacific by means of an issue of collateral trust bonds.

It was asserted positively yesterday that the plan which E. H. Harriman and Illinois Central interests have been working on contemplates offering Union Pacific shareholders either $178 or $200 a share for Union Pacific stock in four per cent guaranteed bonds, with the purchased stock of the Union Pacific as collateral security. The financial operation will be similar to that of the purchase of the Burlington by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific through a collateral trust bond issue. The deal will be handled through the Railroad Securities company, which was organized in 1886 by Harriman and Illinois Central interests to purchase Illinois Central stock.

GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

Formally Launched at American Motor League Meeting.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—The good roads movement, which has been agitating automobile circles, received its formal launching at the preliminary meeting of the American Motor League here yesterday. Isaac B. Potter, temporary president of the league, was formerly president of the League of American Wheelmen. Temporary organization was effected and next Saturday set as the date for permanent organization.

FRAUDULENTLY NATURALIZED.

Captain of Every Steamer Wrecked on the Pacific Coast.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—John E. Wilkie, chief of the United States secret service, said last night that the captain of every steamer which has been wrecked on the Pacific coast in the last three years has been found to have been fraudulently naturalized. The secret service bureau is working up fraudulent naturalization principally in San Francisco and Philadelphia and to some extent in New York.

DONNELLY IN LOUISVILLE.

President of Meat Cutters Disappeared From Cincinnati.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Michael Donnelly, president of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, who disappeared last Thursday from Cincinnati, is in Louisville, Ky., according to the Record-Herald. Mrs. Donnelly, who is ill at her home in this city, yesterday received a telegram from Louisville, saying that she might expect her husband home today. The telegram was signed "Mike," but contained no particulars regarding his departure from Cincinnati.

CLEAN SHEET CRUSADE.

Georgia Traveling Men Drafting Bill for Legislature.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—A despatch to the Record-Herald from Columbus, Ga., says: Georgia traveling men yesterday began a clean sheet crusade by drafting a bill which one of the members of the Travelers' Protective Association, who is a member of the legislature, will introduce, requiring hotel keepers to change the bed linen before assigning a room to a new guest. It is claimed that in some of the smaller towns the sheets are changed but once a week, no matter how many persons occupy the bed in that time.

TO BE SUSPENDED TWO YEARS.

Decision of University of Wisconsin Faculty Regarding Football.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 6.—After discussing the matter for seven hours last night, the faculty of the University of Wisconsin adopted resolutions reiterating its suggestion that football be suspended for two years, if the other universities of the "big nine" concur. It also declared in favor of the recommendations of the Chicago conference for a modification of the rules. The faculty asks President Angell of Michigan to call another conference.

LITTLE BOY'S AWFUL ECZEMA

For Two Years He Could Not Sit Nor Lie Still—Suffered Terribly with Pain and Itching—Scratched Till Flesh Was Raw—Grew Worse Under Doctor's Care.

SPEEDILY CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"When my boy was six years old he suffered terribly with eczema. He could neither sit still nor lie in bed quiet, for the itching was dreadful. He would irritate spots by scratching with his nails, and that only made it worse. Nothing gave him any relief until I used the Cuticura Remedies, and I cannot praise them too much. A doctor treated him, and we tried almost everything, but the eczema seemed to spread. It started in a small place on the lower extremities and spread for two years until it very nearly covered the back part of his leg to the knee.

"Finally I got Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, and gave them according to directions. I used them first in the morning, and that evening before I put my boy to bed I used them again, and the improvement even in those few hours was surprising, the inflammation seemed to be so much less. I used two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, the same of the Pills and the Soap, and my boy was cured. He has never had a return of the eczema since. I hope you will publish my letter so the public will know what Cuticura has done for my boy. (signed) Mrs. A. J. Cochran, Jr., 1823 Columbia Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa., April 13, 1905."

Runaway Freight Crashes Into Passenger Train.

Several Persons Dead and Others Missing.

HELENA, Mont., Feb. 6.—A disastrous railroad wreck occurred last night shortly before midnight, two and a half miles west of this city. A runaway Northern Pacific freight train crashed into a passenger train on the same line, wrecked it completely, set fire to it and up to 3 o'clock this morning four persons whose identity is assured were known to be dead, with a probability that two more whose names it is impossible to learn may have been burned in the wreck.

The known dead are: J. N. Robinson, Missoula; Charles Brickle, conductor passenger; J. A. Jessup, express messenger; Foster Senegal, merchant of Lillston.

Brakeman Edward Brown was seriously injured, but not fatally. None of the passengers who escaped with their lives were seriously injured.

The passenger train passed through Austin, about eight miles west of Helena, on time. Following it was a long freight train made up of box and flat cars, loaded with lumber and shingles. At Austin the engine was uncoupled from the freight to take water, and the train was left standing on the track. There is a steep grade east of Austin, and by some means the freight train got started down the hill. The passenger train was standing at the Montana Central crossing, when the engineer heard a sound behind him that warned him of danger. He started his train, but it had gone but a few feet when the runaway crashed into the rear car. There were but two cars in the passenger train, and these were smashed and thrown into the ditch. The engine did not leave the track and Engineer Petty managed to keep ahead of the flying freight. The freight went, probably 600 feet when it, too, went off the track. In a few minutes fire started and for hours the cars and the lumber burned fiercely.

The crash of the collision was heard by persons living in the vicinity who immediately started for the wreck. They found the combination car on fire, and pinned under a mass of wreckage was Messenger Jessup. He was unconscious and heroic efforts were made to release him, but the flames finally compelled the rescuers to withdraw. Jessup, still conscious, struggled to release himself as the fire took hold of his limbs, but the effort was fruitless, and after a few screams of agony he became unconscious.

Exposed to full view with blazing shingles all about him, and his bed a mass of red hot coals, was the body of an unknown man. It was slowly consumed until all that was left was the skull and outstretched were two stumps that a few hours before had been arms.

There are supposed to have been eight passengers on the train, of which number two are still unaccounted for.

THIRTY-SIX BODIES FOUND.

Twelve More Recovered From Wreck of the Valencia.

VICTORIA, British Columbia, Feb. 6.—Thirty-six bodies of the Valencia victims have been recovered, including 12 brought in yesterday, nine men and three women. Of the latter four have been identified as O. W. Inglehorne of Ferndale, Washn., Gus Brickson of San Jose, H. M. Peters of Los Angeles and Peter Glude of Brownville, Washn. Two others are thought to be the bodies of C. H. Montgomery, quartermaster and Fred Starr of San Francisco.

COLD WEATHER GENERAL.

Only Exception Found in the South Atlantic States.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—A statement of weather conditions and general forecast issued by the weather bureau today says:

"The cold wave has reached the New England and Middle Atlantic coast, and cold weather is general this morning east of the Rocky mountains except in the South Atlantic states, the temperature ranging from 10 to 35 degrees below the seasonal average. In central and northern New York the minimum temperatures were from 8 to more than 20 degrees below zero, and the line of zero temperature extends into northern Kentucky. Low temperature will continue tonight and Wednesday from the Ohio valley and lower lake region eastward, although there will be some moderation Wednesday. It will be colder tonight in the South Atlantic states and warmer Wednesday in the east Gulf states.

Storm warnings are displayed on the Atlantic coast from Norfolk to Hatteras.

NOT SO COLD AS SATURDAY.

Northerly Wind in Boston Causes Much Discomfort.

BOSTON, Feb. 6.—While not equalling last Saturday's minimum temperature of one degree below zero, the official thermometer at the local weather bureau stood at only 4 above zero at 8 a. m. today, lower than at any time during last night. A fresh northerly wind led pedestrians to believe that the temperature was even lower and caused much discomfort. Unofficial instruments in the suburbs registered from 1 to 4 degrees lower than that at the weather bureau.

The lowest point recorded by any government observer in New England was at Northfield, Vt., where at 8 a. m. the thermometer reading was 22 below zero. At Concord, N. H., it was 4 below, at Eastport, Me., 2 below, at Portland, Me., 2, at Providence, R. I., 6 and at Nantucket 24.

The fall in temperature in Boston was swift, yesterday's maximum having been 43, recorded at noon while at midnight it had dropped to 16.

COLDEST DAY OF THE WINTER.

Below-Zero Temperatures Registered in Parts of Connecticut.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 6.—In some parts of Connecticut today was the coldest day of the winter. The thermometers at Robertsville and Colebrook river, in the northwestern corner of the state, registered 16 degrees below zero, and at Norfolk it was 14 below, while in Winsted 10 below was registered at sunrise.

In New Haven the temperature was one degree warmer than in the cold snap last Friday. In Lakeville the thermometer stood at 13 degrees below.

Sixteen Below at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 6.—At the United States weather bureau the thermometer at 8 a. m. today registered 16 below zero, the coldest point reached in 24 hours.

Below-Zero Weather Near Amsterdam, N. Y.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Feb. 6.—The thermometer registered 14 degrees below zero in this city this morning. Johnstown reported 26 and Northville 35 below.

Forty Below at Camden, N. Y.

ROME, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Last night was the coldest of the season, the mercury going to 32 below in this city. The lowest reading reported in this vicinity comes from Camden, where 40 below was registered.

Coldest of the Winter at Saratoga.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Thirty degrees below zero was the temperature here at sunrise today, this being the coldest weather of the present winter.

Coldest Day of Winter in New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Today was the coldest of the present winter in New York city, the mercury touching 5 below zero in its downward slide. This was one degree colder than the previous low record for the winter.

From 30 to 40 Below in Adirondacks.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Feb. 6.—A temperature of 40 below zero was reported today from Loon Lake. Upper Chateaugay lake was frozen across, the temperature there being 30 below. Other temperatures reported from Adirondack points was 32 below at Lake Placid and 28 below at Saranac Lake. Here the mercury registered 18 below.

No Ice Famine Feared in Montpelier.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Feb. 6.—Fears of an ice famine in this section were allayed today by the coldest wave of the winter. In this city unofficial thermometers registered 30 below, while in the adjoining town of Barre private glasses showed 31 degrees below.

Snow in Bennington, Vt.

BENNINGTON, Vt., Feb. 6.—Sixteen degrees below zero was registered by unofficial thermometers here today, the lowest temperature of the winter. Two inches of snow preceded the sudden drop of the mercury.

Cold Wave in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

SUPERIOR, Wis., Feb. 6.—At 7:30 this morning the mercury stands at 25½ below zero. Yesterday's record of 28 below at 8 a. m. was broken at Hibbing, Minn., where the mercury fell to 31 below.

TO CONFER ON INSURANCE.

Thomas W. Lawson and Party Arrive in Des Moines.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 6.—Thomas W. Lawson of Boston arrived in Des Moines at 8:45 a. m. today for a conference with Governor Cummins in regard to the insurance investigation in Iowa. F. S. Monnett, former attorney general of Ohio; N. B. Broward, governor of Florida; Freemont Older, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, and several Boston newspaper men accompanied him. Governor Cummins met the party at the Rock Island station and drove to The Chamberlain.

TO RETAIN COACH YOST.

Michigan University Defies Football Conference Recommendations.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 6.—At a session lasting late last evening the University of Michigan senate voted practically unanimously to retain Coach Yost for the Michigan football eleven regardless of the recommendations of the recent Chicago football conference, which declared against professional coaches who were not faculty members. There was no great controversy over this question, Yost having a contract running four more years. The proposal made by the University of Chicago that football be abolished for two years was defeated by a decisive vote. It was decided to accept the Chicago conference recommendation for a three years' eligibility rule, but at the University of Michigan the rule is not to be retroactive; that is, it will not apply to students who entered college under the former conditions. This ruling of the senate will save Captain Curtis, Garrels, Barlow and Schulte, who have been in athletics three years and would have been ruled out under the Chicago recommendations.

When the proposition to abolish the training table was reached, a determined fight was started in favor of retaining the tables, but having won out on its principal contentions the opposition did not press its advantage and the rule to abolish training tables was endorsed, as were also the remaining resolutions of the Chicago conference.

PRICE 25 CENTS A POUND.

Immense Tobacco Crop for 1905 in Connecticut Spoken For.

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 6.—The deadlock existing between the tobacco growers and buyers in regard to the price of last year's crop is broken, and it is now certain that a great quantity of the weed will change hands soon. A number of New York state buyers are here, and it is understood that the immense crop for 1905 is nearly all spoken for, the average price on sales being 25 cents a pound, although in some cases fancy prices of 30 to 35 cents have been paid by the big buyers. Much of the 1905 crop was lost through pole sweat.

FORMERLY CHIEF OF POLICE.

Death of Colonel Daniel A. Butler in New Bedford.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Feb. 6.—Colonel Daniel A. Butler, formerly chief of police of this city, died today at the age of 68 years. He served in the Union army in the civil war, and was for many years interested in the militia. He was elected colonel of the First regiment, M. V. M., in 1883, to succeed Colonel Wellington, in command of that organization, but almost immediately resigned. He leaves a widow and an adopted daughter.

NEW POLICE BUILDING.

Preferred to School House by Marlboro Board of Aldermen.

MARLBORO, Mass., Feb. 6.—The board of aldermen at a meeting last night practically placed itself in a position whereby the erection of a building for the joint use of the police and fire departments and in which prisoners might be made comfortable was considered preferable to the construction of a schoolhouse, and as a result the citizens are considering the advisability of bringing about a re-consideration of the matter.

A resolution was introduced by Alderman C. F. McCarthy, providing for a new schoolhouse, the matter to be placed in the hands of a special committee for investigation. Alderman J. N. L'Eveque moved that the resolution be referred to the committee which is already considering the erection of the police building, and this motion was carried, despite the statement that it would be well to consider the construction of more than one building at a time. He said it was a question of providing accommodations for 300 or 400 school children, or taking care of poor unfortunates who would be arrested and placed in the city lock up, which is in a bad condition. He favored the latter proposition, and he was supported when the vote was taken.

The proposed construction of a new school house has the support of hundreds of citizens, and the action of the aldermen in making the comfort of school children secondary to that of prisoners is expected to bring about interesting developments.

MOLIVAR-ORRVILLE CUT-OFF.

Contract Let by Wabash Railway Company, at $450,000.

CANTON, Ohio, Feb. 6.—Announcement is made here that a contract was let by the Wabash Railway Company Monday for the construction of the Molivar-Orrville cut-off of 22 miles. The price is $450,000 and work is to begin within 10 days. It is now admitted by railroad officials that the Sugar Creek & Northern railroad, a corporation recently organized under the laws of Ohio, is a Wabash project. The contract for the cut-off awarded Monday is given in the name of the Sugar Creek & Northern.

CANNOT HOLD MEETINGS.

Injunction Against Hayes Faction of the Knights of Labor.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Justice Anderson, in equity court No. 1, yesterday signed an injunction against the Hayes faction of the Knights of Labor. They are restrained from injuring, destroying or in any wise disposing of the records of the order; from calling or holding any meeting of the general assembly of the order, pending the determination of quo warranto proceedings on the law side of the court. The restraining order is not to go into effect until the complainants file an undertaking to be approved by the court.

Men and Women Unanimous About It.

Many women weep and wail and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The price is such it doesn't count
So trivial is the sum,
Four hundred shaves—a hundred cents
Four shaves you get for one;

NEW YORK, Feb. 6, Wall Street.—The stock market opened firm, with Amalgamated Copper at 115¾, American Smelting 165, Atchison 92½, Anaconda 227, Baltimore & Ohio 111¼, Brooklyn Transit 84¾, Canadian 173¾, Erie 46¾, Missouri Pacific 101¾, New York Central 139¾, Northern Pacific 212½, Ontario & Western 70½, Pennsylvania 142¾, Reading 137¾, Rock Island 26¾, Sugar 143¾, St. Paul 181½, Southern Railway 40¾, Southern Pacific 68, Union Pacific 155¾, United States Steel 41½ and 41¾, United States Steel preferred 110¾ ex. div., Wabash preferred 45.

10—Opening prices in the stock market showed general advances, mostly of moderate fractions. Colorado Fuel rose 1¾ and Pittsburg Coal recovered 1⅝ of yesterday's loss. Union Pacific, St. Paul and Amalgamated Copper made good fractional gains. Canadian Pacific declined a point. The dealings were on a moderate scale.

11—Prices rose briskly unopposed by any selling orders. Great Northern preferred gained 3⅞, Northern Pacific and Reading 2¾, Lead 1⅞ and Union Pacific, St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Illinois Central, Louisville & Nashville, Kansas City Southern, Amalgamated Copper, United States Steel, the local fractious, Tennessee Coal, Locomotive and several others made 1 to 1½ point gains. Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste Marie lost 2½. Trading became dull at the higher level, but prices held firmly.

Noon—Money on call, steady, at 4 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4½@5½ per cent. The rapid advance of 5¾ in Illinois Central was a sustaining influence in the market, but the volume of dealings was notably contracted from the average. Union Pacific and St. Paul seemed to be affected in sympathy with Illinois Central, the former rising 2¾ and the latter 2. Reading and Northwestern rose 3, Colorado Fuel 2½ and several other stocks 1 or more. The general list moved narrowly. Bonds were steady.

MR. SURETTE'S LECTURES.

Probably No Other Person in This Country Combines So Many Qualities for the Task.

The American Society for the Extension of University Teaching, in announcing the series of lectures of Thomas Whitney Surette, staff lecturer in music, which is to be given here this month and next, speaks as follows:

"There is probably no other person in this country who combines musical knowledge, lecturing ability and enthusiasm for 'common-sense music study' as does Mr. Surette. His name and reputation are so familiar that it is scarcely necessary to speak of his birth in Concord, Mass., and his training in Boston, at Harvard, in England and on the Continent. Success came to him early as a teacher of musical theory in classes and schools, and his ability as an organist has drawn many flattering comments from the American and English musical papers. To experience as pianist, organist and orchestral director, Mr. Surette has added a well-merited success in the world of composition.

"His first pastoral opera, 'Priscilla,' which is now in its sixth edition, has had more than five hundred performances. 'Cascabel,' a Romantic Opera, was first presented in Pittsburg in May, 1899, and is now in press. 'St. Agnes Eve,' a Dramatic Ballad for soli, chorus and orchestra, founded on the poem by Keats, was given a highly successful first performance in Philadelphia in 1898, and is now in its second edition. 'Portraits,' five pieces for the piano, two cello pieces, and the anthem 'Let God Arise,' written to celebrate the close of the Spanish-American war, and selected to represent the American School of Church Composers at the services of the American Guild of Organists in New York, were published in 1899.

Mr. Surette has spoken for the University Extension Society some 400 times in regular courses at centres and in single lectures or partial courses before schools, colleges, churches and clubs, and summer meetings. In the great hall at Cooper Union, New York, Mr. Surette's audiences averaged, during 12 lectures, nearly 2,000 persons. At the conclusion of an East Side course the New York 'Times said: 'The audience was typical of the district; Hebrews predominated, and there were many Poles and Hungarians. They had assembled for many reasons—some with a sincere desire to be instructed, others to be merely amused. It was all the same; everybody gave the closest attention. The hall has seats for 710 persons; there were at least 1,000 within the walls when the lecture began, and the doors were closed, shutting out 300 lardy ones.'

Mr. Surette's lectures are designed to interest and instruct the same audiences which listen to lectures on other subjects, and are by no means for musical people alone. The only requirement necessary in listening to them is a certain appreciation of beauty such as is common to nearly all persons, and a desire to be in touch with the thoughts of great men. The subjects are treated simply and clearly, and there have been repeated assurances that the lectures are understood by persons who possess no musical knowledge whatever. The greatest practical benefit of the lectures lies not so much in their historical qualities as in the help they afford the listener in appreciating and understanding the best music—they teach him how to listen.

MR. UNDERWOOD'S GIFT TO THE CITY.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

The action of the late William J. Underwood in leaving the bulk of his estate to the city of Newport recalls a practice that was not uncommon in Newport, and indeed throughout New England, half a century or more ago, but which now seems to be dying out. Each new age has its own best ways of expressing its philanthropic impulses, and our time is doubtless not behind the period referred to in large-hearted, public-spirited philanthropy. Nevertheless, the method chosen by Mr. Underwood reveals an unmistakable social-mindedness and a delicate sense of gratitude to the common life of the city, from out of whose rich stores his own wealth-producing powers were drawn, that possesses, for me at least, a special charm. It shows, moreover, a simple faith in the people and a confidence in the trustworthiness and managing ability of the elected representatives of the people that stands in strong contrast to the lack of confidence in and unwillingness to co-operate with the existing public authorities (however much they may laud those of a bygone age) exhibited by most of our present day "reformers."

May Mr. Underwood's example lead us all to renew our faith in popular government, even though the present representatives of it may not be of our "set" nor have been trained in our school of business and social life.

AN APPEAL FOR DESTITUTE CRIPPLED CHILDREN.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

Sir: I should like to call the attention of the children of the well-to-do at Newport to the New York Home for Destitute Crippled Children. Little roundlings who have been picked out of the streets and relieved from their misery by the kindness of some ladies who are interested in that work in the great city of New York. Many a child has become tired of his or her toys, and these may have been put aside and forgotten. I ask those children to think of their little friends in this great city; look over their toys, and those that they do not want send to my store in Newport, in care of Mr. Bliss, who will pack them up and the same would be delivered to this home, which is called the New York Home for Destitute Crippled Children, 141 West Sixty-first street, without any charges. Children's books would also be gratefully received.

I might also state that Dr. Bull is on the consulting staff, and, as usual, gives his attention in helping these poor little children, some toward ultimate recovery, and others to a better physical condition.

Respectfully,
F. P. Garrettson.

A TROLLEY EXPRESS.

Old Colony Street Railway Formulating Its Plans, and May Include This Island.

The Old Colony Street Railway Company, having had its charter amended in Massachusetts to permit the company to conduct a general express business over its lines, has already prepared two cars for the work and others are in process of construction. Now it is announced that Mr. George Dunford of Utica, N. Y., has been selected as general express agent and will shortly begin the work of inaugurating the new service. He is no stranger to the task before him, having gained his experience in and about Utica.

One of the plans of the company, it is announced, is to establish an express business between New York and Boston by the aid of the New Line boats and their terminus in Fall River. Already the company is running a through passenger service from Boston for this line. This side of Fall River the company operates under a charter granted the Newport & Fall River road, and before the freight service is extended to this island, if it is so intended, it will probably be necessary for the company to go to the Rhode Island legislature for amendment to the franchise. Such a service would probably be a great convenience on the Island, particularly to Fall River merchants, who send delivery teams practically through to Newport several times each week. The service of course, could be used by Newport merchants as well.

ALGONKINS WIN FROM GALAHADS.

In the Junior League series Monday night the Algonkin team defeated the Galahads, 21 to 19, in an overtime game. Again it was shown how important a factor the ball is in these games. In the first half the score was a tie at 9 each and in the second half each side had scored 10 points when time was up. It took about three minutes of overtime to decide the tie, and Algonkin won. The line-up:

Algonkin.	Galahad.
Stark, l. f.	l. f., Gibson
Holmes, r. f.	r. f., Curtis, Allen
Hale, c.	c., Briggs
Young, l. b.	l. b., Fludder
Powers, r. b.	r. b., Wrenquest

Score—Algonkin 21; Galahad 19. Baskets—Stark 2, Holmes 3, Hale 1, Young 1, Powers 3; Gibson 1, Allen 3, Briggs 1, Wrenquest 2. From fouls—Holmes 1, Curtis 1. Referee—Pitman. Umpire—Pomeroy.

The game at the armory this week will be on Wednesday, and the attraction will be the Fall River Independents, made up of the best players in Fall River, which means that there will be some basket ball shown. Saturday the Reserves go to Franklin, Mass., to play the Dean Academy team.

HEROIC RESCUE BY MR. JANNEY.

Mr. Thomas A. Janney, Jr., member of the Maryland Club and well known in fashionable life in Baltimore, made a heroic rescue of Susan Kelley, his mother's maid, during a fire which destroyed Margaret Meadows, Mr. and Mrs. Janney's country seat in Green Springs, Md., yesterday morning. Before the household awoke Mrs. Janney was aroused to find the ceiling of the bedroom ablaze, probably from defective electric wiring. Mr. Janney, who was the only other member of the family in the house, aroused the servants and helped his mother out of the house. Within a few minutes the entire part of the building was a mass of flames, and it was then that Mrs. Janney, in looking about, noticed that her maid, Susan Kelley, was missing.

Mr. Janney, accompanied by two other servants, rushed back into the blazing building in search of the maid. She was found lying unconscious in a back room on the second floor of the dwelling. Mr. Janney and one of the men picked her up in their arms and staggered down stairs and out into the air. The old mansion and barn were destroyed. Mrs. Janney managed to save her jewelry and considerable silverware was rescued with some difficulty. The loss is $60,000.

Mr. Janney is a brother of Mrs. Paul A. Andrews, Mrs. George A. Hahn and Mr. G. Manson Janney.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

John T. McDermott has sold to C. H. Koehne, Jr., the estate bounded south, 69 feet, on Prospect Hill street; west, 69 feet, on the estate of W. S. Lawson; north, 70, feet, on land of the Aquidneck National Bank, and east, 66 feet, on the estate of T. J. Lynch and Mary Hansen.

Samuel G. and Harriet B. Cottrell of Westerly have quitclaimed to Amanda A. Blackmar their interest in the estate bounded west on Thames street, north on Young street, east on land formerly of John Steel, south on lands of Oakley, Martin and A. W. Aldred, and west partly on land of A. W. Aldred.

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Mrs. Martha Gollands, teacher of the Vaucluse school, was bitten Sunday on the right arm by a pet kitten. The arm became much swollen and inflamed, causing great pain and necessitating the services of a physician. She is obliged to carry her arm in a sling and is guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Conway.

Miss Margaret Shackelton of Fall River was guest Sunday of Miss Steelie Manchester.

Mr. Isaac Chase, Jr., who has been ill with the mumps, has recovered and returned to school. Miss Lois Burt, who also attends school in Newport, is sick with the same disease.

The supper to be served at Holy Cross guild hall is not a dime supper but a chowder supper.

A cottage prayer meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Brownell, Friday evening.

The son and daughter of Mrs. Lavers had their tonsils removed Monday by Dr. B. W. Storrs.

Mr. Jacob Almy is getting along with his broken ribs as well as could be expected.

The Oliphant Reading Club will meet with Mrs. W. H. Gifford Friday afternoon. The subject will be "Women of America," which was the subject assigned for last week.

THE LAW IN WESTERLY.

Those who have noticed the accounts of the efforts of the Westerly town council to enforce the liquor laws, and who have followed the various trials of those druggists who were raided, will be interested in the accounts of matters in that town which are to be given at the annual meeting of the Rhode Island Temperance League in Providence, Friday. There has been a Good Government group led by the ministers' local association, which has planned and urged a change in the conditions which have made Westerly practically a "free rum" town.

Rev. W. F. Williams, rector of the Episcopal Church, will tell of the citizens' side of the law, and Hon. Thomas H. Peabody, who is credited with being the member of the town council who planned the crusade of law enforcement, will give the Council's side of the matter.

LAST MEETING IN OLD CHURCH.

Reception Given by Members of Second Baptist for Rev. and Mrs. J. Chester Hyde.

Last evening the members of the old Second Baptist Church gave a farewell reception to Rev. and Mrs. J. Chester Hyde in the vestry of the church on Farewell street. It was notable as being the last gathering to be held in the old meeting house and the last assembly of the members of the church in its former capacity. Hereafter they will meet in the new Second Baptist Church in union with the former Central Baptist church in the church on Clarke street.

The vestry was prettily decorated with festoons of red and white paper, caught at the pillars with knots of blue, and palms, ferns and other potted plants gave an additional touch to the pleasing surroundings. Rev. and Mrs. Hyde were assisted in receiving by Mr. George W. Bachelier, Jr., clerk of the church, and Mrs. Bachelier, and a number of the members of the church and congregation were present to give evidence of the esteem in which the former pastor and his wife are held. In addition to these there were also a number of the friends of Rev. and Mrs. Hyde from the city outside the church, including representatives of the majority of the churches. Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Stenhouse, Rev. and Mrs. Bertal Heeney, Rev. and Mrs. William Safford Jones, Rev. James Austin Richards, Rev. and Mrs. Samuel L. Carr, Rev. C. J. Nelson, Rev. Henry N. Jeter, D. D., and Rev. Byron Gunner.

After prayer by Rev. Samuel L. Carr, Mrs. Carroll sang a solo, and Rev. Mr. Stenhouse made an address, in which he spoke of the work of Rev. Mr. Hyde in the city, particularly of his earnest labors in the union meetings. Rev. Messrs. Richards, Heeney, Jones and Nelson spoke in a similar vein and solos were rendered by Mrs. Carroll and Mr. William Dick, and selections, "Starlight" and "Longing for You," by the Enterpe Quartet. Colonel John Rogers accompanied the soloists. Letters were read from Rev. George W. Quick, of the new Second Baptist Church, Rev. Emery H. Porter, D. D., of Emmanuel Church, Rev. George Whitefield Mead, Ph. D., of the First Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Walter Lowrie of Trinity Church. The program was arranged by a committee of which Mrs. John Congdon was chairman.

After the formal exercises, over which Deacon George B. Smith presided, refreshments were served and an opportunity was afforded for a social hour, during which all present expressed their appreciation of the work which Rev. Mr. Hyde had done in the community. The reception was concluded with all joining in singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Rev. and Mrs. Hyde were the recipients of many beautiful flowers, which were displayed on the tables. During the evening a series of resolutions, signed by the deacons and clerk of the church, were presented and adopted. The resolutions conveyed to Mr. Hyde words of praise for the good work he has done in the church during his three years' pastorate, expressed the church's appreciation of his pastoral work, especially in the Bible school where both the pastor and his wife have labored zealously and successfully, and recommended Mr. Hyde to any church to which he may be called. The resolution will be the last entry to be made in the records of the old church.

CAPTAIN BARR TO SAIL THE RAINBOW

Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt of the New York Yacht Club has engaged Captain Charles Barr to sail his 70-foot sloop Rainbow during the coming season. The Rainbow was laid up last year, her owner being abroad cruising in steam yacht North Star. From present indications all four of the famous 70-footers will be in commission next summer.

William Ross Proctor's Mineola won a large share of the prizes last year with Charlie Barr at the wheel. She have a new skipper this year. The Yankee, owned by J. Rogers Maxwell, will probably be steered by her owner's son, Harry Maxwell, while his father will be at the wheel of the new schooner now being built for him.

It is understod that William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., will put his 70-footer Virginia in commision early and will sail her himself, as he has done in former years. These four Herreshoff sloops in a class will insure some lively starts and interesting contests in the races of the clubs on Long Island Sound.

HIGH-CLASS REPERTOIRE.

Daniel Ryan's Opening Productions Present a Capable Company and Good Accessories.

Daniel Ryan and Thomas E. Shea are two of the early repertoire stars who, while still remaining in the field, have broken away from the 10, 20 and 30-cent business and though playing at lower prices than the usual one-night productions quite outdo them as regards the merit of the productions they offer the people. Mr. Ryan is in Newport this week, playing his opening bill yesterday afternoon, followed by another performance last evening. None of the usual methods of packing the first house were followed, and so the attendance may have looked a little small to first-nighters.

Last night the offering was "An Enemy to the King" and was a decidedly pretentious production, to be seen in repertoire. Mr. Ryan has made his reputation by launching out into just this sort of business, which has of course required carrying people well above those usually seen in repertoire and in addition demanded expensive stage settings and properties. The attention paid to small details was well shown last evening, when even leaves were used for covering the stage in the woodland scene.

The company is large as well as capable for handling the heavy productions, which include Shakespearian works as well as those of other masters. "Supes" are used freely where masses are required to dress the stage, as in the big companies. The costuming attracted attention from the rise to the fall of the curtain, because of its faithfulness to the time in which the play is set. The scenic effects were carefully arranged to suit the play, and all in all it was difficult to realize that one was being entertained by a repertoire company.

THE BARGER—MORGAN ENGAGEMENT.

Announcement was made yesterday to relatives and a few intimate friends of the engagement of Mrs. Camille Leonard Morgan and Mr. Milton S. Barger. Mrs. Morgan is the widow of Lt. Henry Morgan, who died two years ago and who was an architect of great prominence. She is the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Robert W. Leonard, of Mount Kisco, and a niece of Mrs. Rudolph Schirmer.

Mr. Barger is the only son of Mr. Samuel F. Barger of New York and Newport. He was graduated from Harvard in the class of 1898, and is a member of the Knickerbocker, Union, Racquet and other prominent clubs of New York, and is in the offices of the New York Central railroad. No date has been mentioned for the wedding.

AT AUCTION.

Two carloads of Horses at the American Horse Exchange,

140 Dorrance St. Providence

THURSDAY, FEB. 8,

AT 10:30 A. M.,

For our sale Thursday the best money can buy of our own selections. This is a very choice lot of Indiana horses, full of quality. We have spared no expense in trying to get the good class that we can stand by with our guarantee. There are two carloads coming, one with Mr. Seth Pierce, and one with Mr. Frank Briggs. We shall have in this load a good assortment of drivers and family horses, also some for grocery, market and express work. Don't fail to look them over if in want of a good horse, as we sell them as low as any firm can sell, as our shipments show our horses are the right sort and our trade warrants our buying a good horse.

We shall also have several matched pairs. This load will arrive Thursday Feb. 8, the day of the sale. We hope to have a big attendance and will close them out to the high dollar.

Private sales and exchanges daily. Auction sales every Thursday and Saturday.

CONTROL OF POLICE.

Providence City Council to Apply to Assembly for Its Transfer from Governor to Mayor.

Without a dissenting vote, the Providence city council last evening took the initial step for transferring the control of the police department from the governor to the mayor and the board of aldermen. The measure directing the city solicitor to apply to the Assembly for legislation which will bring about such an amendment to the present law was presented in the council by Mr. San Souci, advocated by him and by Thomas J. Flynn for the Democratic members, and then passed upon by the aldermen. Mr. Presbrey, in that branch voicing his sentiments in favor of it. The bill which thus passed the council was unusually specific in nature and it is understood that the draft outlined will meet with the favor of the Assembly leaders. In such a case, it is expected that the necessary legislation will soon be enacted. The bill which Mr. San Souci presented to the council is as follows:

"Resolved, That the city solicitor be and hereby is instructed to apply to the General Assembly at its present session for such amendments to an act, entitled 'An Act to establish a Board of Police Commissioners for the city of Providence,' passed November 22, A. D. 1901, being chapter 930 of the Public Laws, as will hereafter, in the event of a vacancy occurring in said board from any cause whatsoever, and upon the expiration of the terms of any of the members of said board, place the power of appointment in the mayor of the city of Providence, with the approval of the board of aldermen; and to provide therein that the mayor shall appoint, with the approval of the board of aldermen, at the first meeting of the board of aldermen in each year a member of the board of police commissioners to fill the place of the member whose term next expires; and in case of the failure of the mayor to make such appointment, or of the board of aldermen to approve such appointment, the board of aldermen shall, at its next meeting, elect some one to fill said office; and further provide therein that in case of a vacancy occurring in said board of police commissioners for any cause whatsoever, the mayor shall at the next meeting of the board of aldermen, after said vacancy occurs, appoint, with the approval of the board of aldermen, some one to fill said vacancy for the unexpired term; and in case of the failure of the mayor to appoint, or of the board of aldermen to approve, the board of aldermen shall, at its next meeting, elect some one to fill said vacancy."

DRAFTING A NEW CITY CHARTER

A meeting of the general committee appointed by the Citizens' Municipal Association to consider the question of a new charter for the city of Newport met last evening, to receive the report of the sub-committee to which was intrusted the drafting of a charter. The sub-committee reported progress, presenting a draft modelled after the town charter of Brookline, Mass., and the report was considered in part by the general committee. It is expected that the draft of the proposed new charter will be ready for publication within ten days or two weeks.
